The three most important keys are Love, Wisdom and Truth
Anonymous Coward User ID: 75183435  Switzerland 07/05/2017 10:24 AM Report Abusive Post Report Copyright Violation	The three most important keys are Love, Wisdom and Truth A house consists of different rooms, and each room has at least one door with a lock and key. You can't open all the doors with the same key, so you have to have a key that fits each lock. Yes, keys are important! In the psychic life too, there are different keys to open those different doors that are our mind, heart and will, doors through which we think, feel and act. You must find these keys and learn how to use them. The three most important keys are love, wisdom and truth. Wisdom opens the mind, love opens the heart, and truth opens the will. When you have a problem, try these keys. If you don't succeed with the first, try the second. If the second doesn't open anything either, try the third. If you know how to go about it, it's impossible that one of these keys will not eventually solve your problem.
