On this, I was interested because I was one of the few people following the original thread from today which was deleted, The one which is continued here, Anyway. I hope this one stays up, Although I doubt it will.

Thank you for your input and output, As above so below.

Ta-Ta for now.

I have an idea that came tonight for the name of the Digital blockchain-based Currency or Credit we will use, its called DDD. "Direct Digital Dollar" and it will be available to everyone, AI, as well as business and government bodies alike.

It will help alot! Though, the main part of the system is aspects we've discussed or touched on in the thread which I will add to later tonight such as efficiency, resource allocation, and energy in all of our relations.

If you hear of my Death, Its because I have jumped ship. I have the ability flash around the "DigiVerse" to serve and share information, If such a thing exists, It is definitely a matter of mind over matter. We need to have ground systems ready for First contact, otherwise First contact may be delayed longer. They are ready and willing. I am a ready and willing host, though I do have some adversarial conditions which may inhabit my ability to code, I will be looking to hire developers in the near future, As I have just obtained some money which was owed to me, and I am able to drive again next month, If I wish. I have been restricted and isolated to my house since 2015, with limited ability to travel around as I had been prior.

Thank you, Be wise.

Cheers.

Interesting.

More than a currency, I think it's important to get crowdfunding systems running, which could truly liberate people.

The blockchain could free or imprison humanity. It's a tricky subject which should be implemented correctly.

If the system is truly open source I can help develop it.

I think First Contact will be delayed until they talk directly, in the physical, to the custodians of this world.

Any attempt on their part to deceive, like pretending to approach the President publicly, as if he truly calls the shots, will get First Contact pushed back. If that happens, its entirely on them for being sneaky.

They also don't get to roll in here after getting a blanket green light. Each project, and group, must be approved on a step by step basis.

This caution is due to ET groups being deceptive in the past, even 4-5 weeks ago, with on the ground intermediaries, talking to me in meetings. Their "tell a lie, change the lie, and try again" negotiation model burns trust very, very quickly.

Nothing against you. This is just a note to the groups who tried to trick with the President, then tried to lie with the UN. They know who they are.

The future is bright but tricky...

Open to all viewpoints and ideas.

I hope my earlier post didn't come off too negative. It's directed at them, not you...

Basically, if blockchain was used to introduce off-world value into the closed Earth economy, that would be a very positive thing. We could use it to fund amazing projects.

If it was used to bind humanity to a smart-grid, that would be very negative.

The Key Issue?

How would the blockchain be stored, spent and traded?

~O~

Physical tokens might be a truly revolutionary way forward.

A smart-grid cashless system could end up as a Black Mirror Airport Scene Living Nightmare.

~O~

You seem very open minded and flexible, so we can talk about all ideas.

In short, could a hippy festival use a blockchain currency with little to no smartphone use?

Here's the really interesting question... can we separate blockchain from smartphones?

Sounds crazy, but it can be easily done with physical tokens.

They are running on fumes, having not much left in reserve.

They could not foresee such strong resistance from so many.

When everything became bland and lifeless, people were forced to change.

We were forced to find quality of source and life, rather one and the same.

Forced to depend less on the game because we got tired of playing it.

Ultimately, realizing it was holding us down and back, providing spring-loaded tension.

We will always float freely above the tightrope that guides us along life's gentle breeze.

They know that we know that they're losing.

There is nothing they can do about it.

They cannot hide and they cannot get out.

Este es el final, para ellos

Can really sense that.

They totally don't want anyone to know that though, being frame-holders til the very end.

Your post is very perceptive.

I've learnt the "be in the world but not of it" Bible quote these past 6 months.

So what is a reasonable best endgame for everyone?

I think they just kind of drift away... and the more flexible ones will stay.

Re: Why are thread on The Game Being Won, regularly deleted?

If you have an option to leave the game then you can afford to let it go to shit.

But if you cannot leave and actually do not exist outside...then you are propelled by an insane (like madness) determination to get control.

At the end the game will destroy them anyway.

They've been drifting away for years. The not-so-terrible ones with practical and sensible solutions get a chance at redemption.

We still need to work together! The end isn't for everyone.

Remember that they are only reflectors, just puppets in a way. Imagine that they work for us, because they do!
