With all this talk about depopulating the planet, billionaires are against us, the government is against us. They keep trying to bring down the quality of life to poverty levels.

They like to tell us "You will own nothing and be happy".

"Eat bugs".

So why are we still alive? I'm sure they could wipe us out if the population being dead is their goal. They own chemicals and airplanes and weapons of mass destruction. The right gas and everybody drops dead.

So, why are they killing us so inefficiently? Starvation, freezing, eating bugs, bad vaccines, yoga mats in Subway Sandwich bread. What's the angle?

It's just a question.

Quoting: Crypt Not It

Why would they kill us off quickly when they can prolong it and make us all suffer?

That is unfortunately, the answer. There is a metaphysical, spiritual component to this "Great Work" the cabal is laboring on, and it involves the imprisonment and torture of the spirits of mankind. If they kill us, it only terminates our physical bodies, affording our valuable souls the chance to leave their system. They wish to retain and ensnare as many souls as possible to continue using as power source for their non-human masters. They can accomplish this by breaking down our minds and stripping us of the will to resist, creating trauma and nihilistic despair that leaves our spirits vulnerable to attack. On the physical level, they are planning on using nanotechnology and brain-computer interfaces to entangle our consciousness on earth so that even death will not release us. If mankind were to spontaneously drop dead right now, before their plans had been completed, they would actually lose, and we would be free to roam the universe again, choosing better places to reincarnate.

They won't require us for that after they move over to the new CBDC, which will derive value from mining algorithms tied to biological and neurological operations in transhuman hosts. The survivors of this period will literally become walking bitcoin mines, and it won't even matter whether we're actively out in the world earning taxable income or stuck hibernating in a cryo-pod body farm. As for labor and soldiers, the governments of the world are sitting on bio-engineering and artificial womb facilities that fill entire underground military bases and are currently growing the new servants of the elite. The artificial womb project they just disclosed in Germany is merely the tip of the iceberg.

It's not the reduction in global population I take issue with, it's the march towards normalizing tyranny, destroying individuality, treating men and women like biological robots, and undermining self-determination and choice on both the individual and national levels. I'd rather be dead than live in such a hollow, callous world. As we've advanced technologically, we've regressed psychologically and spiritually. Better that we return to the bronze age than build ourselves a gilded soulless prison. Happiness is found in the heart, so what good can come of cremating it? We must revisit our dysfunctional modern notion of "progress".

if they dressed in Nazi uniforms it would be obvious they're mass murderers, people in the military, in security services of the govs would react extermination done in the guise of medical care doesn't LOOK like extermination, so few if any will react exterminating the human race in the guise of medical care, and initially slowly, increasing the pace as the grip of the mass insanity and capitulation grows stronger means that, IF their program is stopped, it will most likely be done thru the legal system as opposed to a violent revolution and action of a military nature legal system ... FFS ... i could die of laughter right now, you DO NOT DEAL WITH AN ATTEMPT AT MASS EXTERMINATION OF THE HUMAN RACE thru the legal system

but because of the way they are carrying it out, it probably WOULD be done thru civilian courts, law enforcement, and so can and likely would stop short of hold those TRULY responsible accountable. maybe figures like Fauci, Peter Dazak, are convicted and sentenced to jail, thats all. that's all that will happen, maybe some Pfizer ppl go to jail

Video games and computers conditioned people that when someone says something will happen, they presume that it will be within 5 minutes. So if it does not happen then, it is false.

Meanwhile the elites planned over 70 years at least and have Agenda 2030 which is 8 more long years to achieve their goals.

Based on 3/4 of population vaccinated and some percentages from doctors and some random estimates based on toxicity varying by lot number, I estimated that 32% to 47% of the population will die from these jabs within 4 years. More later as they received a lower toxicity in their lot and/or did not get the boosters.

By any measure, those numbers are staggering but it is not "everybody". All or nothing words imply an immaturity in the writer that I suspect here as well.

They elected for slow-kill and it takes a few to several years, but the conclusion is the same.

With slow kill, you can use the boiling frog approach where the frog sits in the cold water and it slowly heats up and the frog does not notice the slow change until it is too late. The end is assured, but takes varying times to get there in terms of years.

We have gone over this many times on GLP. Where have you been? How is it that you do not seem to be able to grasp this?

There are multiple reasons. One is that it is difficult to kill a living being. Especially if you want to do it in covert manner.

Second, is that the depop was put on hold.

they want a controlled collapse, not a sudden and disorderly collapse

( in addition to reasons i posted above, boiling frog, and avoiding a move to stop them of a military nature as opposed to a civil, legal nature )

if ppl die too quickly, the economy collapses in a catastrophic way as opposed to just deteriorating bit by bit ... they can't get jet fuel for their private jets, their own food supply is not certain, everything they need for their own comfort and survival becomes uncertain WHEREAS in a controlled collapse their incalculable wealth should insure they themselves will always have all they want or need they are going to exterminate the entire human race ( except for a small remnant )

they will nuke russia and china, but they need to have enough ppl left in western nations to carry out the mop-up operation to finish those nations off after the nukes. if they kill everyone in western nations now, nobody left for the mop-up operation. if they kill ppl in russia and china with the bioweapons, russia and china will launch a nuclear first strike. they dont want western nations to be nuked, they want the infrastructure left largely intact there
