I will leave with one rumor from the other side where the Ghosts roam

He visited Trump and told him not to run in 2024, and gave a specific warning but left it entirely in the hands on President Trump to decide

Trump running extends the pain, but for a short time only

There is a time to sow and a time to reap

And we will have peace, after we Duke this thing out because it's that time

An actual world War, of unimaginable violence and misery

2nd prize is you get a glorious death on the field of battle like a fucking man

Donald Trump's current problem is he does not believe he was just a means to an end in this Cosmic battle

He was inaugurated on that day as a message, he then carried out what he was ORDERED to do

He likes DJT, he also likes the idea of Free Will to choose

DJT needs to reflect before deciding

Probably not lol, just like today here, a scientist brought some post docs for something and all women of course, and it was like a hospital full of docs that even in the chaos since got informed the last minute, they all responded so professionally but in a so simple way that realized how small and totally insignificant is the reflection on them, it was amazing and felt like trash actually, but it is not evny, some people are not so smart, no problem being one of them, especially when they fill the gaps the pro's as they did today.
