I live in two realities

Whilst most people live in the world, they know to be true, I straddle two, one that you live in, and another one where I see all the control mechanisms.

Why am I here? To warn you, warn you all. Stop seeking answers for questions, for you might just get what you want, and then everything you know and cherish will be gone. Think mash Potatoe moment in Close Encounters of the third kind.

But to those that are curious, and will persist in trying to work out the secret of the second reality, you need to know that your lives are not your own, you are controlled, the evidence is insurmountable, but the very same mechanisms that control you, control my ability to share the information that I have, even writing this is proving to be exhausting, with every tap of the keyboard I have to resist the need to close the page.

Could I write a book? Yes. Can I write a book? No....and believe me I've tried. What I do know is I'm able to talk about it/them, and I've shared what I know with those closest to me, all have accepted what they see with their own eyes, but it never does any good, because the effects are accumulative, from birth to death you are bombarded with the tools they have at their disposal, all of which I see, understand and want to share, but as said earlier, I have issues with being able to do that!

For the want of a good ghost author, eh?

But, to confirm. The movie they live....and the quote from Roddy that it was meant to be a documentary, I can tell you that it is true, the code is there for all to see and understand, but for it to be a true-life changing experience you need to have the keys.

So, how did I become aware of this? The story of this spans nearly five decades, the first I knew of this was in 2012, and it came because I saw a trigger, a tv advert in fact. One for a global media company that saw a person going down a tunnel and then come back up the same tunnel, but it was different, I won't say how for now.

When I was maybe six, or seven I had a visit at my school, one that my parent didn't know about, and it was only many years later I understood this was a nefarious and insidious act. At the ager of two I died; I died watching the start of a cartoon on tv, it was then I had a fit and died.

Then a few years later, I recall being able to do long multiplication with my uncle, remember the age I was, but upon being called into the school hall I was asked to look at photos, answer questions and then the very last thing I can remember is being asked to focus on a watch that was being swung in front of my face.

After that day I couldn't even write my own name, any and all information was lost, I flunked out of school at fourteen and held various jobs, but all through that time I would have word pop into my head that made no sense and would never have been used in my own sphere of existence, it got so bad with these words my wife, then girlfriend bought me a dictionary because the words were so obscure, the problem was that I couldn't spell, not a single word, it was if my mind had been wiped clean, but I had to learn to do this before I could even start understanding my journey.

Anyhow, then came 2012 and everything changed, for wave after wave of realities washed over me, so real, so destructive that it almost destroyed me, but thankfully at the exact same time, 2012 seemed to open up my mind to everything I had learned but never knew it.

So, I sent from low paid worker to running a company with 150 employees within two years, yes there is a benefit, but I wanted answers, and its these answers that ultimately led my life to implode, hence the reason I say, do not try to understand what is all around you.

So how did I come to use GLP? In 2013 I saw a news report that was relevant to my search, wanting to revisit the story it had disappeared from the tv station, and no mention of it anywhere else, with the exception of...you got it...GLP! Thats how I started on here and I've seen trends, comings and goings, if I were into SEO then I really could make some money but I'm now a health and safety professional.

In closing I say this. Use this site as entertainment, but know that there are some things you don't need to see or know.

Good luck, and phew, writing this took every bit of will and effort I have, and I'm truly exhausted.

Re: I live in two realities

Hey OP.

Is it about finding the inner portals in the mind/heart/crown chakra etc... then getting sucked in through them to the inner reality?

What does travelling between the two worlds feel like?

9243 - it feels like one big conflict, a conflict of realities.
Honestly, I wish I had never gone down the path of discovery, for what is adjacent to the yellow brick road is a red one. watch the clip, you'll see it in all its glory.

Ad I say, I have the ability to destroy your reality, your world, but I can't bring myself to write what I know, which is so frustrating, why? Because I know I could change the reality of 7.6 billion people in Planet earth.

No one should ever have this much power, it's wrong, and it's something I've never asked for, wanted, or needed.

It's amusing how you think you're the only one who sees the world as it truly is (and you're missing a lot, obviously).

So the Yellow Brick Road is like a spiralling inner vortex?

Some say its the inner kundalini energy.

The internet is a separate reality. A simulation. A matrix. Many of us are hooked on the intranet being fed intravenously.
