Junk food and junk media are powerful forces that keep us trapped.

Questions, or ignore as you wish.

I have a house to tidy.

Don't ignore the basics, America.

Hydrate well, eat a LOT of barleygrass and dark green leafy foods.

If you continue to focus on the area, you may feel your soul "half-fading into Paradise".

Sympathetic vibration.

You use your pineal vibration to capture and direct other vibrations of the same vibration and frequencies.

I do energy channelling. Have done for over a decade.

You use that power to direct other power.

I use Love Energy. Breathe it in, let it out and share it with the universe. Every breadth you allow it to double the previous amount until every hair on your body stands up.

That means you can't hold much more with your physical form.

Then you direct it to where you want it to go and pattern it to make it more effective.

When using Emotional energy to boost your energy system flows you need to dig deep emotionally, find the bit that vibrate when you are being the hero who cannot be defeated.

When you hit those emotions you feel everything magnify. I can do it in seconds if required.

After a while you learn to "tune it" and block out the frequencies and vibration you are not using while increasing the output of the ones you are using.

Crystals are tuned oscillators. Each type has specific frequencies they are set to with specific properties.

By feeling their vibration you learn to use your bodies system like a tuned radio. You can narrow down the bandwidth until you are only using the one you want.

I pretty much know everything. Spent years communicating to my non psychic followers using OP's threads.

I am not sure he sees the humour in this yet.

Which is something I am struggling with to the point of developing irregular heart beat. I feel like I can trace the issue back to failing to release as I am drifting off. You have to feel it. Then you conduct it. Visualising love...does that work?

Visualisation is the link between you and the Universe. You line in to connect and make mental constructs which persist as programmed systems. The more emotion you can make the "stronger" they are.

All this sort of happened by accident to me...or so it seemed. After 40 years I could see the design in it, a series of unbelievable coincidences which are a signature in themselves.

I would just stumble across a book and later online material. It all seemed coincidental.

I played Golf. It is a head game. If you get too excited because you played a good shot it can stuff you for the next one. Get too down over bad shots...and it destroys you so mentally you can't hit the ball straight for shit.

One day I discovered you visualise the shot in your head before you play it...then I am a good golfer...who gets in a motorbike accident at age 19 and can't play professionally after that.

Golf also teaches you to master yourself or you just can't perform at the top of your game.

coincidence right?

Both those skills are required to do what I do well.

What you visualise primes what is about to occur.

I was raised in the churches, real ones where they did healing and miracles casting out of demons etc.

I learned there was a real power there anyone could use.

People "feel" those things. It is the sixth sense I say, to feel electromagnetic fields and be able to manipulate them.

You sense them with your nervous system and instead of colours to differentiate spectrum emotions and sensations are how you "read" fields.

Still mind, still heart and still spirit and "feel" like ins star-wars where Ben tells Luke to stretch out with your feelings.

Quiet places are good.

Re: The Intensity/Opacity of this Simulation may reduce if you eat well, and focus on the Cerebellum, Lower Occiput / Back of the Neck

I live in the sticks. You feel the vibrations of nature here because there are no people or buildings for miles around.

It is distinct and profound once you point it out to people, you can feel the world around you.

The Signal of reality is ahead of our brain which takes 0.23 seconds to decode and edit it for us.

But you can feel the raw feed. Duplicate the feeling of a near death experience and your brain turns up dramatically.

It gets so close the breaking wave of reality you can influence it with your intent alone.

Emotions + Intent (the programming instructions) and Belief.

All systems of magic work like that even if the pretend they do not.

The harder you try the more you distort the fields so they are no longer accurate. Instead one tries to do it more accurately than trying to do it louder.

Fluke it a few times and your conscious mind starts to believe seriously and you can do it more often than not.

It helps to see other people do impossible alterations of reality first to break the idea the laws of physics are immutable.

Freaky spiritual churches as a kid did that for me.

When people do things which science says is impossible you know either science it outright wrong or simply incomplete and ignorant as a result.

My education in science is excellent as well as debating and philosophy (the father of all sciences) many of my friends for school are Phd's and doctors.

Everything is science, even magic. You just have to understand it.

I suffered abductions in a past life.

Pays to investigate them as well.

It shows you the overall picture and sometimes gives a few answers as to why.

Often you find the people around you wives mothers fathers brothers etc you all knew in previous lives.

In my past life I was regularly abducted by who we though was the US military establishment. In this life research indicates it was really a private corporation who many who worked there assumed it was run by the military or US government.

This private project also interacted with Aliens.

Recovering some of those memories was interesting. I was once tortured by a Mantis alien because I would not do as I was instructed to do and they knew I was hiding information from them.

What was going on was they were abducting boys with talents and using them to operate equipment which was operated by the mind alone. Visualisation manifesting in reality by amplifying people's brainwaves.

None of what I did is believe at all to people these days.

I didn't know Al Beliek, but I knew Duncan Cameron. He was also on the same projects. I thought Preston Niclos had no morals.

None of us knew anything about what we did. Those memories were separated by time loop.

They would abduct you, send you back 0.1 second before the abducted you and your conscious mind hid the other memories from you because it doesn't make sense in linear time.

They didn't pay us either. No one knew they were working for these people.

Thank you OP, I'm a Daobums member and practice Internal Alchemy!

Though I've been experiencing burning at left occipital for a bit, blockages won't release for some reason. Mostly focusing on yi at ldt in horse stance and yellow court/mdt work.

Any literature you recommend? Currently immersing myself in Wang Liping "Daoist Internal Mastery"

Does your forehead vibrate ?

More peaceful.

Though some exit out the front. Stories?

At the back ?? When my pineal gland is really active, another point vibrates at the top of my head. Is that the one you talk about please ?

I have modified all my world with this peaceful power and the control of my thoughts. I ve also seen many glitches in the illusion.

Can we have a discussion about the pineal gland please?

Mine vibrates everyday but i don t know how to increase its power or what to do with that power.

Quoting: ThePassenger

It's not just the pineal. it's the pineal, pituitary, thalamus... and below that, the caduceus spine.

IMO it's about getting the whole body healthy.

Then the energies start to flow by themselves. Not more power... sinking deeper.

Sympathetic vibration.

You use your pineal vibration to capture and direct other vibrations of the same vibration and frequencies.

I do energy channelling. Have done for over a decade.

You use that power to direct other power.

I use Love Energy. Breathe it in, let it out and share it with the universe. Every breadth you allow it to double the previous amount until every hair on your body stands up.

That means you can't hold much more with your physical form.

Then you direct it to where you want it to go and pattern it to make it more effective.

When using Emotional energy to boost your energy system flows you need to dig deep emotionally, find the bit that vibrate when you are being the hero who cannot be defeated.

When you hit those emotions you feel everything magnify. I can do it in seconds if required.

After a while you learn to "tune it" and block out the frequencies and vibration you are not using while increasing the output of the ones you are using.

Crystals are tuned oscillators. Each type has specific frequencies they are set to with specific properties.

By feeling their vibration you learn to use your bodies system like a tuned radio. You can narrow down the bandwidth until you are only using the one you want.

I pretty much know everything. Spent years communicating to my non psychic followers using OP's threads.

I am not sure he sees the humour in this yet.

The Chi Kung Turtle exercise might unblock the occipital region. Can be done anywhere.

You could read ancient Taoist poems, and discern how they were leaving alchemical clues there. More than literature, I recommend watching the world around, you, and trying to discern natural law.

Recently I started making fires to heat my home traditionally.

I noticed that oil or naphtha would burn too unstably. If I added peat, the fire was more controllable. It reminded me that I needed Earth in my spirit, to temper the Fire.

The world is always telling us things.

Can you make everything you do Tai Chi? From getting the shower ready, to boiling food, to filling in a form. That's what I'm working on. Not easy. I have a tendency to rush.

I guess you've read the I Ching? I like the Wilhelm version. It can be read on deeper and deeper levels. You can OBE/Inner Project into the Etheric I Ching structures.

Some say the hexagrams are like Exquisite Gardens.

You can also use the I Ching to draw etheric archetypes into your life. Make events happen.

Castaneda is always worth a read, especially the chapters on the Recapitulation. Florinda's bit in the Eagle's Gift, and the mentions of the Recapitulation in Magical Passes, and Taisha Abelar's book, the Sorcerer's Crossing.

I don't think there are any limits to this power... only the ones we impose on ourselves.

Did we trick ourselves to experiment this "physical" life?

Do you think each one of us has its own world? In mine i can change events, change people s mood, create things, but does that mean i am alone in my own world?
