Elixir of Immortality - Anunnaki

Please explain the process and how it is derived.

How did the Anunnaki learn this technique to live a long life? How often do they need it? How much does one human create?

Does it destroy the spirit or soul of the human?

Can anyone stop them?

Re: Elixir of Immortality - Anunnaki

FYI Anunnaki means Family of Anu on Earth. Its simply a name for the royal family of the Sirius Empire. Just like Elohim means the family of El, another name for the royal family of Sirius that rule earth.

Right now Earth has two groups on Earth working together.

The House of Allah, which is ran by Sin Allah, prince of Sirius and grandson of Anu, currently has rulership of this solar system. Anu is the ruler of the Sirius Empire. Sin Allah is both the Abrahamic God and Satan, and ruler of Earth. His daughter Inanna/Diana/Freya/Asteroth is in charge of managing humanities rulers.

The House of Abraxas is from Orion, and pretty much runs the galactic banking systems, and manages the Harvests of human loosh worlds. Right now Loki Abraxas is their highest representative here.

When thinking of their partnership, its sort of like Allah is some warlord buying everything he needs from the Abraxas dealer who can get them anything they need. Similar to how the bankers control the wars on Earth, As Above, So Below.

The House of Abraxas was founded by Abraxas himself, who was the son of Yaldabaoth/Brahma the Demiurge and the first Eve. After Tiamat saved the first Adam and Eve from Yaldabaoth/Brahma, she hide them in the Lyra system, and went on to create the Orion Empire. Because Abraxas was the son of Yaldabaoth/Brahma, he was immortal and eventually his mother and family members all died. As an immortal he spent centuries learning how to leave the planet he was on and explore space. Eventually he left with a small group of humans, and ended up in the Draco system where he got captured by the Draco.

The Draco were created by Yaldabaoth/Brahma after his defeat by Tiamat and her dragons. During the first age of this reality the Dragons of Orion and Draco warred with each other. Eventually the Orion forces found Abraxas captured by the Draco and freed him. He was taken back to Tiamat and she took him under her wing.

Abraxas was eventually given titles and other gifts from Tiamat and Sabbaoth and rose in power.

When the Orion Wars happened, Abraxas took advantage of the situation and manipulated the events that caused the great civil war of the Orion Empire known as the Orion Wars.

Before the Orion Wars took place, the Empire was ruled by Tiamat and Sabbaoth, and a council of 7 Dragon Queens which sat under them. One of those 7 Queens was Queen Nomm, who was the Mother of Ea/Odin, the creator of EArth and Loki Abraxas.

The Orion Wars began when Tiamat died at the end of the Demiurge War in order to seal Yaldabaoth/Brahma in the form of Saturn, she became the planet Tiamat(now EArth), becoming one of the Seven Seals that keeps Yaldabaoth/Brahma sealed within Saturn.

After her death, Sabbaoth was faced with opposition from all sides, he didn't have a link with Seven Dragon Queens like Tiamat did, as she summoned them from Heaven and birthed them herself. Sabbaoth took power away from the Dragon Queens from himself, and it allowed Abraxas to get in the middle of Orion politics and at some point Sabbaoth was assassinated.

Abraxas then convinced Queen Bellatrix, the leader of the Orion Amazon female dragon warriors to seize control, starting a civil war between the Seven Dragon Queens for control of Orion.

Queen Nomm fled to our solar system and her people settled throughout the solar system, while Queen Nomm made EArth home. She had lead the initial team of genesis scientists that had seeded the planet Tiamat and had made it into the living library and crown jewel of life in the Orion Empire.

It was a world built for Dragons.

Queen Nomm ruled the planet Tiamat until the planet was destroyed during the Tiamat War, when the Elohim/Anunnaki of Sirius invaded due to their own civil war, as the current ruler of Mars at the time was the previous ruler of the Sirius Empire.

After the destruction of the planet Tiamat, her sons Ea/Odin, Hoenir, and Lodur used the power of Saturn to bring nine large living chunks of the planet Tiamat that stil had life on them together, rejoining them with Tiamat's black heart spirit star using a special crystal tree called Yggdrasil.

The cores of planets feed on Light/Soul energy, which is what causes gravity, as all matter has Light/Soul energy in the proton of every atom, causing those atoms to be pulled toward the black heart star core of EArth. In order to help Tiamat/EArth heal, the tree Yggdrasil was made out of Anisotropic crystals. Which allowed Yggdrasil to absorb the Sun's Light and store it, allowing EArth/Tiamat to have a constant food source, a energy source powerful enough that the early Orion Aryan and Atlan Pleiadians who settled on EArth could use what many would call magic, due to the high levels of Soul/Light energy stored in Yggdrasil giving them the ability to manifest things in the reality matrix.

Re: Elixer of Immortality - Anunnaki

Yggdrasil was made out of Anisotropic crystal, most of the large mesas throughout the world that look like tree trunks were World Trees that were part of Yggdrasil.

Anu decided those crystals were better served if he destroyed those trees and used them to build a Christ Palace next to the star Sirius B, the Christ Star.

So he cut down Yggdrasil, so he could use that crystal for his new Jerusalem city

Re: Elixer of Immortality - Anunnaki

It was the House of Abraxas that first produced immortality elixir, and now they pretty much control the trade.

The highest level members of their house are all immortal due to it, and they keep members of other royal families like the Anunnaki/Elohim in line to their plans by controlling who gets some.

Re: Elixir of Immortality - Anunnaki

For the record, Heimdall is knowingly lying about the Rulership of the Solar System, and a few other things.

He's employed by Tuna, Dan, or one of the other special needs party boys, to hold dominant frame, bully people into believing a particular timeline, and imbue fatalism in readers.

He won't sign off his comments under penalty of perjury, and changes the story when it suits him.

He's trapped by prior agreements, but he's sincere, and we'll help him get out of them eventually.

No offence Heimdall. Consider this a playfight between peers at the Dojo.

*bows curtly*

~O~

There are many ways to slow down aging. I managed to hold it back a while. I'm starting to look a little older now, but the protocol I follow has helped me.

Never underestimate the basics, like cold showers, high chlorophyll diet, squats, simple fresh food, cut down on simple carbs. Nofap plus green foods is a big one.

On top of that, stem cell therapy is now in the public domain.

I heard of people in Shenzhen who were 300 years old, but look 60. There are many methods.

Using discipline and 'white hat methods' means you're not tied to an external source.

ALL HUMANS have the fountain of youth inside them. We can see it running wild in children and teenagers.

What happens is we stuff up that Immortal Fountain with MacDonalds, sugary foods, bad thoughts etc. One hamburger won't kill you... but every little indulgence will block the natural long life elimination system by, say, 0.0001%...

Eventually, these things accumulate, and you end up trapped in mortality.

The methods I outlined may not get you to 500, but they will get you to a vigorous, productive 80, at least, instead of a decrepit, hobbling 70.

Anyway...

House Abraxas noticed humans carried the fountain of youth inside them, and thought: well, if we harvest a little from each human, we can make a bottle of Regenex with 100 of them.

I've met people connected with the Balem faction, so to speak, in Taipei.

Heimdall is switching the names round, but several trustworthy sources have told me that those names in Jupiter Ascending are right out of real life. Heimdall also neglects to mention that there are benevolent and transformative factions in House Abrasax.

I have stories, but I've got paperwork to do this Saturday.

Good luck this weekend kids. You could make ginger and guava soup, and binge watch Rick and Morty, to lift the winter blues, if it pleases you.

That is all.
