Heimdall of Asgard is hereby appointed Honoured Court Jester. Give him 12 wives and a lifetime supply of Jagermeister.

Lino of the Dark Mountains, Saul of Gemini, and Lady Kalique are hereby ordered to destroy the hives as they see fit.

Re: LARPerS, I am considering Claiming The Orion throne... Any Objections?

You would be only the 2nd King within the Orion Empire through out its history.

Only Queens have ruled for the last few billion years.

The only king they ever had was Sabbaoth, the husband of Tiamat. Who is now reincarnated as Michael/Ninurta the supreme commander of the armies of the Sirius Empire.

Good luck trying to take over the most powerful empire in our galaxy though. They got weapons that make the Death Star look like a kids toy.

So how you going to control an empire with 100s of trillions of citizens, when you can no longer offer them the bliss of the Dragon Queens?

Re: LARPers, I am considering Claiming The Orion throne... Any Objections?

Yeah I object. I'm not into your LARP and do not recognize it. I also will not recognize any authority outside of the Self, who is the guru of all and the One and what everything is.

We are all free, and should be working to awaken to realize this freedom.

The history of this universe/thought structure is just a minor thing in eternity.

I'm not here to fight, argue, but I will not submit or recognize any authority outside the heart. This matter based existence is temporary.

Re: LARPers, I am considering Claiming The Orion throne... Any Objections?

This universe is a tiny speck in relative scope of the consciousness that exists out there.

I would suggest the ones who are worried about Orion, Pleiades, or any other galaxy sized or group and interactions focus on the Self, which makes existence possible. Relative existence makes it hard to find the Self, and that tells you enough you need to know about why they don't want you to find it.

For instance, our universe is a tiny mote of dust compared the the being known as Samael. Universes orbited around it's immense size.

Samael still does not compare to the being who makes it all possible. I hope we all find this being, our innermost Self.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 74244892

It is interesting that you say he is imprisoned. I did not notice the radiance of light from him. He appeared magnitudes larger than the universes that were laid out before him. He was made of flesh pillars, covered in chains, with large teeth and nails protruding from his flesh. His whole body was covered in eyes that stretched further than perception. On a scale of things, our universe may as well have been a speck of dust besides our own Sun to give a comparison to Samael's size in the dimension I witnessed him. There was a ring that encircled the various universes as they orbited around him.

His light may be gone, but his consciousness is still there. I hope that all light is restored to all of existence and every being existing as a unicity can find healing and love.

Yeah, what you say about some beings trying to harvest Loosh does seem to be the case. It is more apparent now to see how things synchronize to try to inspire fear and doubt in the Self and goodness. My personal belief is if they stop looking to steal other's light, that they will find the light inside themselves was never gone.

Of course that would take a change in mindset of trying to control others and be "greater" than another. Seemingly, it is something that their narcissistic and egotistical mindset is not willing to give up on, even as they see their time of illusion and deception coming to an end.

Re: LARPers, I am considering Claiming The Orion throne... Any Objections?

Dear Daozen,

Thank you for your claim.

Christ has returned and is asking all non Earth beings to ready themselves to return to their origins. Christ is the creator and owner of this Universe. He was a bit unhappy with some of his planetary and star cousins who took over while he was away searching for whatever it is he goes looking for to bring back to his children on Earth.

If you choose to commit to your claim you will no longer be able to have a human experience on Earth. You will be the primary caretaker responsible for the beings of Orion. Are you up for that?

Same for all the other planetary rulers. Be like Musk, the Ruler of Mars, and offer your beings a rocket ship out of here at your earliest convenience. You have the rest of your mortal human life to gather your children and take them home.

Only Unshakable Solar Earth Souls are incarnating here now. All the other cosmic beings are being returned to the source of their soul.

Christ can be a real jerk. He's been very hungry eating all the imitators lately. Don't be one of them. He is also merciful.

He had a message for the "factions."

"Keep my Bride's name out of your f'ing mouth! It's not Sophia or any of the other ten thousand names you came up with..."

Be careful what you claim. A lot of people are about to get smacked upside the head with a iron rod forced to EAT their words and pay the debt of those entities they claim to align with or be.

Quoting: Daozen

I wish you the best in your endeavors at dissolving the thought structures that keep us anchored here.

The darkness of certain voids is indeed blissful. If you desire to go back to the blissful void, I hope you get there and thank you for your desire to help out your universe. I won't trespass into what is your universe/conscious space if you do not want me there. You will always be welcome in my conscious space and heart - everyone is welcome as long as we do not try to play power and control games. No rules of "kings" and "queens" or any of the other things regarding hierarchy of deception and control. I seek no rulership, mastery, control, or leadership over anything. Let all be free and in the Self.

For the time being, I won't trespass into your universe. I still have work to do on finding the Self. However, as long as there are beings who are suffering, in ignorance, and being oppressed anywhere in consciousness, awareness, existence, nonexistence, Void, etc. - if I am able to I will go help them even if it trespasses into what another claims as theirs. I mean no disrespect or hostility at that statement.

All should be free. There should be no suffering, pain, or oppression of another unicity of consciousness. Nothing against consent. No agreements made that bind another with deceptive terms or keeping another in ignorance of what we are.

Re: LARPers, I am considering Claiming The Orion throne... Any Objections?

I wish you the best in your endeavors at dissolving the thought structures that keep us anchored here.

The darkness of certain voids is indeed blissful. If you desire to go back to the blissful void, I hope you get there and thank you for your desire to help out your universe. I won't trespass into what is your universe/conscious space if you do not want me there. You will always be welcome in my conscious space and heart - everyone is welcome as long as we do not try to play power and control games. No rules of "kings" and "queens" or any of the other things regarding hierarchy of deception and control. I seek no rulership, mastery, control, or leadership over anything. Let all be free and in the Self.

For the time being, I won't trespass into your universe. I still have work to do on finding the Self. However, as long as there are beings who are suffering, in ignorance, and being oppressed anywhere in consciousness, awareness, existence, nonexistence, Void, etc. - if I am able to I will go help them even if it trespasses into what another claims as theirs. I mean no disrespect or hostility at that statement.

All should be free. There should be no suffering, pain, or oppression of another unicity of consciousness. Nothing against consent. No agreements made that bind another with deceptive terms or keeping another in ignorance of what we are.

Hello Sir or Madam,

I agree with your basic premise.

You are 1000% welcome in this Private Universe, to roam freely and speak your peace as you desire. I place no limits on you.

Last I checked, we were in My Dream now.

You seem like a kind and wise soul and I have literally no conflict with you.

The issue is, some Janitorial and Legal action must be taken against the various parasitic empires and groups that are devouring the free peoples of the universe, and currently trying to devour EArth.

Thusly, I took the Orion throne room, dissolved it, and installed myself as Warden of The Empire of The Seven Stars. Yes, I stole that name from The Pleadies.

The old throne lies empty, and I rule from a Petrified Black Teak Bench.

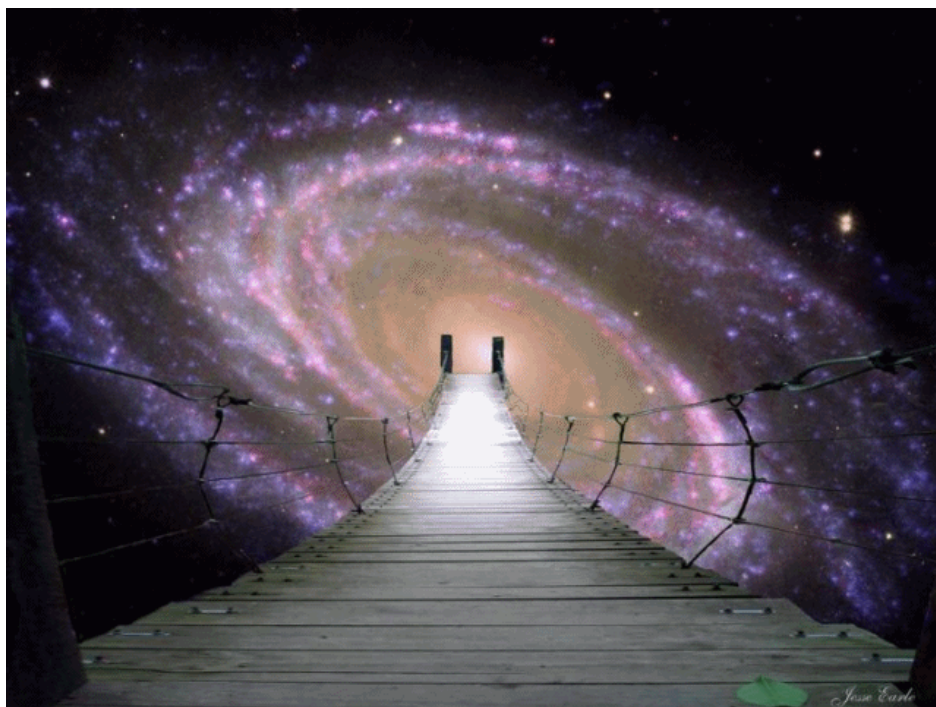

Somebody has to jump on these structures and dissolve them... and cos these kids can neither handle their loosh, nor run a decent economy, it falls to me, Daozen, Tireless Janitor of The Stars, to take the reigns for a while.

Let it be known that I do not seek to Increase control, merely render the old structures Null and Void, and put some light, basic, protective rules around those who wish to walk free and unfettered.

The Demolition Continues.

Declaration: The Council of Three: Lino, Saul and Kalique, may demolish all that inhibits freedom. Bring down the Hives, bring down the Frequency Fences, bring down all that binds us.

Demolition Doozle
