What do you know about the Kalique Abraxas Faction?

Kalique sounds pretty similar to Kalki, correct?

Maybe there are some decent people up there, who want to sincerely clean house...

Valuable contribution...

Can we not accomplish something while half-awake?

Awakening is a gradually process, so you don't go crazy.

I realized that a decree only has power if you will it from the deepest silence.

It sure is an interesting journey.

~O~

So, would writing a decree, giving her official permission to clean house, change things?

You hint that it would.

That sounds fun.

Bleem is such a bore!

Interesting point you make...

From what I read, Kali and Kalki are polar opposites.

Kali is the old age, Kalki is The Housecleaner.

Though fascinating they should sound so similar.

They were a Klingon Separatist Movement in the early 23rd century, before Klingon unification.

Re: What do you know about the Kalique Abraxas Faction?

Creating Kingdoms in Reality.

You create a story people emotionally invest in and their Loosh does all the hard work. All you did was provide the framework for it to fall into.

Authors do this. They make books. The Creators among them create whole worlds they control as The Creator while the people who enjoy their worlds power them mentally and emotionally which is how you make the insubstantial substantial.

People make stories and fables. People's focused attention makes them occur. This is how a group of wealthy billionaires who control the developed world through The Media they own between them.

They make the reality 70% of people believe without question, and thus they make it so.

In the mental space of reality (which pervades all dimensions and layers of reality) things are created which once energized become "as real" somewhere.

These people who have captured a part of your mind (the idea of an abraxas faction etc) are simply applying the same old traps that have always been employed.

What you can make and make with logic which is unassailable will endure for you to use as creator and at your leisure for as long as your consciousness exists.

Consider a lot of authors and TV writers do this for Corporations whom they are Enslaved to.

Money is the method of enslavement.

They made the world run on money to enslave everyone because they were the sources of money as Rulers of their realms.

They then control reality by controlling the printing presses and education, which was forbidden to commoners for 1400 years in the western world.

The world is their story they made between them, powerful people incarnating back into family lines over and over.

They knew from their ancestors controlling what people believed allowed you to control your reality and theirs.

Right now, I have to believe ~something~

My reasoning is... even if this is untrue... it still contains the basic archetypal-story pattern of what I want to happen.

Do you think The Abraxas Family exist?

That is the goddess Kali. Distinct from the demon (asura) Kali of the "Kali Yuga." The demonic age we're all having to live through.

Kalki is indeed the "house cleaner." Also known as the annihilator of ignorance, and destroyer of confusion.

Should I extend it to cover all of them?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 78008597

The Anomaly isn't the owner of this house, it is merely the custodian, a safeguard built into the system using a very basic nucleus of divine consciousness that is set to awaken and evolve organically if certain conditions are met. It cannot simply will itself awake, as it has placed great restrictions on itself to prevent accidental use of overwhelming force in scenarios that would ultimately be self-correcting. This is why the archontic forces are taking their time and focusing more on breaking the will of the public, as the trigger for the awakening is the consensus of the human groupmind. If we stay asleep or complacent, so does it.
