WTF GLP? No real post on the Neurophone?
covert Neurophone harassment as arranged by government agencies and/or other criminals.

Far less than 50%. This website reveals some of the darkest shit imaginable. I was inspired to investigate this as a result of watching a gnarly episode of Black Mirror which reminded me of some of my previous research into mind-control. I look forward to the time wherein my Soul is free from this insanity.

The Neurophone

Although the offered explanations for "Hearing Voices" can include everything from trickery to hidden transmitters to tinnitus to psychic/haunting experiences to possession or encounters with God/aliens (to so – called schizophrenic episodes) by far the most common REAL reason is covert Neurophone harassment as arranged by government agencies and/or other criminals.

US Patent # 3,393,279. July 16th, 1968
US Patent # 3,647,970. March 7th, 1972

The Neurophone was developed by Dr Patrick Flanagan in 1958. It's a device that converts sound to electrical impulses. In its original form electrodes were placed on the skin but with defence department developments, the signals can be delivered via satellite. They then travel the nervous system directly to the brain (bypassing normal hearing mechanisms). Dr Flanagan's "3D holographic sound system" can place sounds in any location as perceived by the targeted / tortured listener. This allows for a variety of deceptions for gullible victims.

Today, the CIA, DIA (etc) use satellites and ground – based equipment to deliver verbal threats, deafening noise and propaganda; using neurophone technology. Anything from TV's/radio's appearing to operate when switched off through to "Voices from God" and encounters with "telepathic" aliens are all cons using neurophone technologies to torment, deceive and (most importantly) discredit agency/criminal targets. Naturally, the system can mimic anyone's voice and automatic computer translations (into any language) are incorporated.

Anecdotal evidence indicates that people like David Koresh, Martin Bryant and others could have been programmed then remotely triggered (or tricked) using harassment technologies like the neurophone. (Although most of the targets are intelligent and law-abiding). For example, John Lennon's killer, Mark Chapman, reportedly heard voices before and after silencing the agency-hounded peace advocate. "God" apparently told him to confess verbally.

No problem. Dig in.

Some of the martyrs to the cause are listed below. These people, all of which spoke with authority and inside knowledge, were all murdered for blowing the whistle on covert satellite harassment....

Bill Roy, ANU lecturer and Chief Technician, Canberra Black Mountain Tower. He was planning to enter politics and tell the world the truth about satellite surveillance / harassment. He was run down while on his bike, alone in the Uni' grounds after dark.

Dr Fred Bell, Physicist and ex DOD employee. He was speaking publicly about evil attacks on citizens using classified technologies. He was murdered in his hotel room just after speaking on Jesse Ventura's Conspiracy show on TruTV.

Ironically, he was the great grandson of Alexander Graham Bell who invented the "telephone" while he himself was killed for telling people about "neurophones", amongst other things including free energy.

Ted Gunderson, Ex FBI agent. Ted was an effective activist that assisted many and worked tirelessly to resolve this situation. He died suddenly in suspicious circumstances.

Alistair Stuart, a Psychiatrist. He was discredited then murdered in his home for highlighting the number of political / agency targets who were falsely committed to mental institutions in order to silence them.

Michael Hastings – He was a journalist working on a story about the CIA chief when killed in a very suspicious accident in 2013. He had also previously ended the career of General McChrystal.

Dr Rauni Kilde - Chief medical officer for Finland, mind control lecturer / writer etc. Rauni was a staunch, and high profile, advocate for exposing and ending the covert systems of oppression. She died in 2015 in what some see as suspicious circumstances while working on something significant. She was held in the highest esteem by both myself and others fighting this cause.

Dr Udo Ulfkotte - German journalist and political expert. He revealed that the CIA controls the mass media and gave examples where he personally had been approached to lie to the public on important matters. He said that even those not working with the CIA were granted "non official cover" and granted protection from prosecution for anything they did. He died of a "heart attack" mid January 2017, again, in suspicious circumstances.

LIVING HEROES

Bradley Manning (Released May 2017) – Jailed in 2013 for 35 years (hopefully to be paroled much sooner if not pardoned altogether) for passing on military information to Wikileaks founder Julian Assange. His motivation was seeing atrocities in Iraq whilst serving there. His concern was for others. In the absence of adequate reporting channels, media coverage or government accountability for such human rights abuses only whistleblowers can bring such things to the attention of the public and then only through marginalised organisations. This of course conveniently allows the government to hide most crimes and demonise those reporting them. The most apt comment I read on this matter read something like this: "When exposing a crime is able to be called a crime by the criminals who committed it you can be sure that those same criminals rule". The US military and agencies manipulate the truth and brainwash the public so that those not thinking straight support their views, giving them at least some leeway to get away with injustices such as imprisoning Mr Manning. Talk of fictional "psych" problems is always a last resort and they also used that in his case.

Julian Assange – He published the Manning documents / revelations en masse through Wikileaks and has been hounded for it to the point where he's sought political asylum from the gov't of Ecuador. The big lie used on him concerns some obvious sexual frame up. Like other whistleblowers, he has been demonised for speaking the truth which has become a crime or revolutionary act according to the criminals committing the crimes. How the guilty turn the accusations back onto the innocent in today's evil world would have been a valuable clue for the despots of the past who would be in awe of what technology and total control of the information flow have delivered to the masters of today's evil world.

Edward Snowden – Attacked to the point where he sought asylum in China then Russia, for revealing to Guardian reporter Glenn Greenwald the extent of the NSA's PRISM surveillance system; gathering all information from all communications from all citizens. Like William Binney before him, also an NSA whistleblower re' ECHELON and other systems, he's been victimised and set up to look like a traitor. Again, as with the quote for Mr Manning, I say: When exposing treachery is able to be called treachery by the traitors responsible you can be sure that those same powerful traitors rule.

Re: WTF GLP? No real post on the Neurophone? covert Neurophone harassment as arranged by government agencies and/or other criminals.

The thing is that the different forms of approaches and programs need to be organized/classified because there are numerous different angles I've found, be it 'Asset Protection' of family members who hold security clearances, Research & Development of a variety of technologies in different environments and applications, simple abuse of technology and authority or 'retribution' such as is common with LEOs who stalk and harass ex's... the list goes on. There's many situations and even more methods of inducing paranoia in the 'target', often it only takes a few major incidents to make them on guard and attribute even more to their 'stalkers' from fear.

The irony is the level of ignorance as well as general retardation among the average person, as well as those who understand the technological capabilities. Most have to create cognitive dissonant redundancies to be able and rationalize and ignore the fact this will eventually be something that besets their offspring.

How the guilty turn the accusations back onto the innocent in today's evil world would have been a valuable clue for the despots of the past who would be in awe of what technology and total control of the information flow have delivered to the masters of today's evil world.

Edward Snowden – Attacked to the point where he sought asylum in China then Russia, for revealing to Guardian reporter Glenn Greenwald the extent of the NSA's PRISM surveillance system; gathering all information from all communications from all citizens. Like William Binney before him, also an NSA whistleblower re' ECHELON and other systems, he's been victimised and set up to look like a traitor. Again, as with the quote for Mr Manning, I say: When exposing treachery is able to be called treachery by the traitors responsible you can be sure that those same powerful traitors rule.

Re: WTF GLP? No real post on the Neurophone? covert Neurophone harassment as arranged by government agencies and/or other criminals.

Far less than 50%. This website reveals some of the darkest shit imaginable. I was inspired to investigate this as a result of watching a gnarly episode of Black Mirror which reminded me of some of my previous research into mind-control. I look forward to the time wherein my Soul is free from this insanity.

The Neurophone

Although the offered explanations for "Hearing Voices" can include everything from trickery to hidden transmitters to tinnitus to psychic/haunting experiences to possession or encounters with God/aliens (to so – called schizophrenic episodes) by far the most common REAL reason is covert Neurophone harassment as arranged by government agencies and/or other criminals.

US Patent # 3,393,279. July 16th, 1968
US Patent # 3,647,970. March 7th, 1972

The Neurophone was developed by Dr Patrick Flanagan in 1958. It's a device that converts sound to electrical impulses. In its original form electrodes were placed on the skin but with defence department developments, the signals can be delivered via satellite. They then travel the nervous system directly to the brain (bypassing normal hearing mechanisms). Dr Flanagan's "3D holographic sound system" can place sounds in any __cpLocation as perceived by the targeted / tortured listener. This allows for a variety of deceptions for gullible victims.

Today, the CIA, DIA (etc) use satellites and ground – based equipment to deliver verbal threats, deafening noise and propaganda; using neurophone technology. Anything from TV's/radio's appearing to operate when switched off through to "Voices from God" and encounters with "telepathic" aliens are all cons using neurophone technologies to torment, deceive and (most importantly) discredit agency/criminal targets. Naturally, the system can mimic anyone's voice and automatic computer translations (into any language) are incorporated.

Anecdotal evidence indicates that people like David Koresh, Martin Bryant and others could have been programmed then remotely triggered (or tricked) using harassment technologies like the neurophone. (Although most of the targets are intelligent and law-abiding). For example, John Lennon's killer, Mark Chapman, reportedly heard voices before and after silencing the agency-hounded peace advocate. "God" apparently told him to confess verbally.

Some of the martyrs to the cause are listed below. These people, all of which spoke with authority and inside knowledge, were all murdered for blowing the whistle on covert satellite harassment....

Bill Roy, ANU lecturer and Chief Technician, Canberra Black Mountain Tower. He was planning to enter politics and tell the world the truth about satellite surveillance / harassment. He was run down while on his bike, alone in the Uni' grounds after dark.

Dr Fred Bell, Physicist and ex DOD employee. He was speaking publicly about evil attacks on citizens using classified technologies. He was murdered in his hotel room just after speaking on Jesse Ventura's Conspiracy show on TruTV.

Ironically, he was the great grandson of Alexander Graham Bell who invented the "telephone" while he himself was killed for telling people about "neurophones", amongst other things including free energy.

Ted Gunderson, Ex FBI agent. Ted was an effective activist that assisted many and worked tirelessly to resolve this situation. He died suddenly in suspicious circumstances.

Alistair Stuart, a Psychiatrist. He was discredited then murdered in his home for highlighting the number of political / agency targets who were falsely committed to mental institutions in order to silence them.
Michael Hastings – He was a journalist working on a story about the CIA chief when killed in a very suspicious accident in 2013. He had also previously ended the career of General McChrystal.

Dr Rauni Kilde - Chief medical officer for Finland, mind control lecturer / writer etc. Rauni was a staunch, and high profile, advocate for exposing and ending the covert systems of oppression. She died in 2015 in what some see as suspicious circumstances while working on something significant. She was held in the highest esteem by both myself and others fighting this cause.

Dr Udo Ulfkotte - German journalist and political expert. He revealed that the CIA controls the mass media and gave examples where he personally had been approached to lie to the public on important matters. He said that even those not working with the CIA were granted "non official cover" and granted protection from prosecution for anything they did. He died of a "heart attack" mid January 2017, again, in suspicious circumstances.

LIVING HEROES

Bradley Manning (Released May 2017) – Jailed in 2013 for 35 years (hopefully to be paroled much sooner if not pardoned altogether) for passing on military information to Wikileaks founder Julian Assange. His motivation was seeing atrocities in Iraq whilst serving there. His concern was for others. In the absence of adequate reporting channels, media coverage or government accountability for such human rights abuses only whistleblowers can bring such things to the attention of the public and then only through marginalised organisations. This of course conveniently allows the government to hide most crimes and demonise those reporting them. The most apt comment I read on this matter read something like this: "When exposing a crime is able to be called a crime by the criminals who committed it you can be sure that those same criminals rule". The US military and agencies manipulate the truth and brainwash the public so that those not thinking straight support their views, giving them at least some leeway to get away with injustices such as imprisoning Mr Manning. Talk of fictional "psych' " problems is always a last resort and they also used that in his case.

Julian Assange – He published the Manning documents / revelations en masse through Wikileaks and has been hounded for it to the point where he's sought political asylum from the gov't of Ecuador. The big lie used on him concerns some obvious sexual frame up. Like other whistleblowers, he has been demonised for speaking the truth which has become a crime or revolutionary act according to the criminals committing the crimes. How the guilty turn the accusations back onto the innocent in today's evil world would have been a valuable clue for the despots of the past who would be in awe of what technology and total control of the information flow have delivered to the masters of today's evil world.

Look up the patent on remote neural monitoring and control

Look at how the diagrams remind you so much of cell phones and infrastructure.

Then ask yourself this, why are these huge cables and antennae we see on cell phone towers necessary to transmit signals that are fraction of a watt?

On the one hand...talk to your doctor about anti-psychotics.

On the other hand...yeah this shit is real. They used it to save the life of a cop in the recent Nashville data center bombing. You know, the major major bombing attack that was a news story for like half a day before it got hushed up.

There was a cop who was walking into the blast area just before the bomb went off. The 'voice of god' told him to turn around and walk the other way and he did and he's just outside the blast area when it goes off.

The big lie used on him concerns some obvious sexual frame up. Like other whistleblowers, he has been demonised for speaking the truth which has become a crime or revolutionary act according to the criminals committing the crimes. How the guilty turn the accusations back onto the innocent in today's evil world would have been a valuable clue for the despots of the past who would be in awe of what technology and total control of the information flow have delivered to the masters of today's evil world.

Edward Snowden – Attacked to the point where he sought asylum in China then Russia, for revealing to Guardian reporter Glenn Greenwald the extent of the NSA's PRISM surveillance system; gathering all information from all communications from all citizens. Like William Binney before him, also an NSA whistleblower re' ECHELON and other systems, he's been victimised and set up to look like a traitor. Again, as with the quote for Mr Manning, I say: When exposing treachery is able to be called treachery by the traitors responsible you can be sure that those same powerful traitors rule.

More noobness ...

And for the record, Dr Fred Bell turned out to be a total fraud and hoaxster.

Seriously dude - this is old old old GLP stuff - catch up and stop acting like a total noob with your fake info.

Catch up and post accurate stuff - on 'heroes'.

Hoaxter? You're clearly a denier, a shill, or plagued by the mental illness which renders your mind unable to process information.
