Now that is just cra.....well maybe that's true actually. Although I think it's more likely they're just NPCs in the grand scheme of life. And Covid is being used to kill those of us that are playable characters.

Or maybe I'm a NPC and just don't realize it.

It's also possible I'm the only Playable Character in all of life and the rest of you are fake.

I was at McDonalds the other day and no one was around to take my order for several minutes.

And then it hit me "WTF am I doing? I don't eat McDonalds" So no one ever took my order I just left.

.. NEVER eat at McDonalds!! Over 10 years ago when facts, data & truth were easy to find, there were so many different sources stating what was in the McDonald's meat.

I have never eaten there since that time... That I recall. Nasty & disgusting McDonalds!

.====>>> People are missing everywhere!!

Grocery stores need about 5 + extra employees.... ALL of the grocery stores (95%). Walmart, Target, etc... Most constantly are short of help.

You want the scary version?

Ok, the US pop was ALWAYS less than 100 million... it was probably 60 million at its very peak in 90's/ 00's ..

The number today is most likely around 10-25 million max.

A lot of fake numbers and ratings are created to support the psyOp that we are more populated than we really are.

But everywhere you go is empty empty empty.

Prices on eating out and attending events have been increased so most people avoid going out and seeing how dead it is everywhere and provides people with the excuse that its just the economy keeping others from being outside...

Go ahead and get the Flightradar24 app for your phone, here you can monitor national air traffic.. at any given time there is only a handful of airplanes in the sky.. a paltry amount of air travel that only reflects the existence of 10-25 million people at most.

If you checked flightradar 24 back in like 2004-20012 era... the whole sky was covered in aircraft.. and reflected a population size more around 60 million.

Re: There are now less than 100 million people in the US

"There are less than 300 million people in China"

- No, there is not and never was. More fake numbers.

"Where did they go?"

- A majority of the "they" you are thinking of never existed in the first place. The ones that did exist were assassinated via silent weapons for quiet wars.

"LoL. Tell me that at rush hour in nyc

I wish 60% were gone"

- Controlled traffic routing and creating the appearance of busyness is one of their most deeply rooted crafts.

Yea you might be stuck in traffic, sure. But it was 100% engineered to be that way via routing, traffic lights, fake construction that causes bottlenecks... there are many tricks in the transportation bag the list goes on.

"I was at McDonalds the other day and no one was around to take my order for several minutes.

And then it hit me "WTF am I doing? I don't eat McDonalds" So no one ever took my order I just left."

- Oh yea another trick, they will open a lot of stores or food places and turn the lights on like its in business, but then you walk inside and no one is there. That is because of a few reasons. one it serves its purpose just by looking open, and two a lot of McDonalds are clandestine tunnel entrances to underground places that certain folk need to be able to access anytime they need.

yes, seems like quite a bit of traffic in florida"

- Im sure it does... everyone routed down the same same streets goig to the same general places, controlled by traffic light systems and matching schedules
