I drank some Diet Coke that had gone bad from heat. It gave me a minor seizure that night. I've seen chronic users have seizures standing next to me. I don't think they even noticed it themselves.

I know chronic users who buy ibuprofen in bulk to deal with the headaches. Either they don't realize it's causing the migraines or they are too addicted to care.

The seizures are more likely at higher altitudes. That's why they warn airline pilots not to drink diet soda while flying. But it's often a delayed reaction so having one before a flight is just as bad.

Good luck with the aspartame. The liver can only process it to formaldehyde.

Headaches, brain cancer.
