It's somewhat interesting that the sum of those 4 is 134,819. Which is basically the arrival time, approx 134,000 years ago, of modern human species from archaic humans based on human tree evolution.

Before that around between 200-300,000 years ago (perhaps 240,400) we we have the beginning of "sapient" from Heidelbergensis lineage.

[\[link to en.wikipedia.org \(secure\)\]](https://en.wikipedia.org/secure/)

Now here's what's really interesting -

The Sumerian Kings List

The Sumerian's through history are defined as the first of our species to move from cave dwellings to cohabitating in functional cities. From the Sumerian society we are gifted systems of Educations, Banking, Religion, Government, Judicial policing, Mythologies etc.

From the annals of their history, bequeathed us written on a stone tablet is the amazing tale of the fabled Sumerian King's List.

The Royal Sumerian list begins before a great deluge with a list of 'Eight Kings' who ruled before the mythical flood. The gospel of Genesis records that between Adam and Noah also existed 'Eight Generations'. In comparison the gospel of Genesis equates a global deluge tale recounting the story of the great flood and Noah's ordained survival efforts, which mirrors a conveying of the older Sumerian epic of Gilgamesh story.

Both pre-deluge histories offer a human timeline with a questionable age length. In addition, the Sumerian list submits an extensively long reign to the first eight recorded Sumerian rulers.

History offers no conclusive archaeological excavations of confirmation in truth of the Sumerian's eight kings' longevity or existence. However due to the history it presents 'after the deluge' that has been verified, the list is seen as an institution of divine origin of royalty.

"After the kingship descended from heaven, the kingdom was dwelling in Eridu. In Eridu, Alulim became king; He reigned for 28,800 years". The kingdoms are measured in "sar", a period that corresponds to 3600 years, and "ner", units worth 600, revealing a series of incredibly long Kingdoms:

*Alulim of Eridu: 8 sars (28,800 years)
 Alagar of Eridu: 10 sars (36,000 years)
 En-Men-Ana Lu-Bad-tibira: 12 sars (43,200 years)
 En-Men-Gal-Ana Bad-tibira: 8 sars (28,800 years)
 Bad-tibira Dumuzi, the shepherd: 10 sars (36,000 years)
 En-Sipad-Zid-Ana LARAG: 8 sars (28,000 years)
 En-Men-Dur-Ana Zimbar: 5 and 5 ners sars (21,000 years)
 Ubara-Tutu Shuruppak: 5 and 1 ner sars (18,600 years)*

"After the Flood wiped out everything and the kingship was descended from heaven, the kingdom was dwelling in Kish".

Calculating the first eight of Sumerian names dedicated on the list from the time when kingship descended from heaven" equates to a total reign of 240,400 years.

The Royal Sumerian list as with all mystifying history, is subject to different interpretations rarely simplified in explanation. By viewing the Sumerian King's list through open modern knowledge..ascertaining that a King is indeed the head of his Kingdom, which is the reference to the head of a civilization, we can see the Sumerian age is patterned after our known science records to the bi-pedal species known as Homo-Neanderthalensis. King and Kingdom - empowerment dominance of species to planet.

The age identification of Cromagnon man appearing somewhere around 39,000 years ago bypasses the shepherd Bad-tibira Dumuzi's and Alagar of Eridu's 36,000 years falling in line with the 12 Sars of En-Men-Ana Lu-Bad-tibira's 43,200 years of the Sumerian Royal List history.

Title and Species, President and Nation, King and Kingdom. Each Sumerian age of the Royal list is similar in equivalence to a growth-age before our species mutates to it's next level. Hence a specific name given as reference to each age category, such as ours (if added to the Kings List) may possibly be known as Hu-Man Terra Firma; King Humanitism.

Through this unique view by connecting the age of a Sumerian King's age-length to mankind's own, we can then understand the Sumerian Royal's list is a list of past civilizations and not one person or family dynasty. A list of eight generations prior to a deluge also hidden in scripture. Simplified, the Sumerian Royal List combined with scriptures Genesis genetics indicates the first settlements created on Earth. thereby listing the reigns of Earth's original organic first 'true blood' humanoid bi-pedal species prior to the devastation of the Deluge.

Bumped for significance and discussion/debate.

At the bottom of my quote, I've presented evidence of highly advanced carving techniques known as 'embossed' carving a mere couple thousand years after the end of last ice age - ~9,000 BC (date for Gobekli Tepe).

How is it possible at the beginning stages of recorded history and about 4,000 years before the rise of the Sumerian culture we were utilizing megalithic construction WITH advanced carving techniques???

The "ancients" knew the Earth and human history is relatively young. Modern materialist "science" has created the fiction of "long-earth ages". The ancients correctly recognized the Deluge as the demarcation line between "ancient" history and modern times.

Here is the correct timeline:

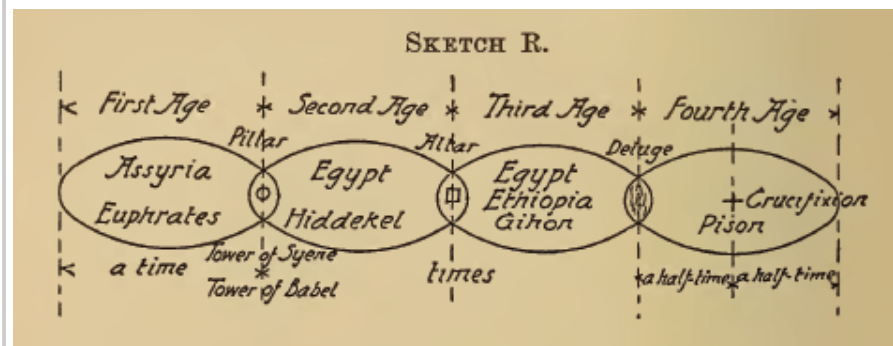

Creation of Adam: 3897 BC
 The Deluge: 2241 BC
 Birth of Abraham: 1948 BC
 Abraham in Egypt: 1873 BC
 Birth of Isaac: 1848 BC
 Birth of Jacob: 1788 BC
 Jacob enters Egypt: 1658 BC
 Death of Jacob: 1641 BC
 Exodus: 1443 BC
 Death of Moses: 1403 BC
 David becomes King: 1007 BC
 Jerusalem becomes David's capital: 1000 BC
 Solomon becomes King: 967 BC
 Solomon begins building the Temple: 963 BC
 Birth of Christ: on or before 4 BC

The closer a generation was to Adam, the more advanced they were in every respect: genetically, culturally, scientifically.

Quoting: GravyForTheBrian

Your first two entries are correct, except that was the Fourth Adam, ours. There were three ages preceding us. The Four Horses are humans. There are 1000 generations spanning a Time, Times, Half Time. A generation is 33.5 years long. We are living the last Half Time now.

Cycles and Ages escape certain people's beliefs. Which is fascinating when we have cultures like Hindu that recorded huge cycles as did the Mayans.

Or the fact that the Sumerians have a very similar flood story to Genesis.
 From an academic standpoint the Sumerians arrived on 'the scene' quite well functioning and advanced (for the times) just 5-6,000 years removed from our exit from the last ice age expansion with the onset of a warming of Earth.
 (None of which is mentioned in Genesis)

To see the style of rock carving associated with Sumerian culture is quite extraordinary. The carving technique I refer to is known as embossed.

The only logical human answer is that these works were holdovers from a prior cycle. Even more mysterious is the embossed carvings at Gobekli Tepe - 11,000 years ago according to academia. That's on the 'doorstep' of the last ice age.

wtf?

So, I agree in part with what you present Nemesis8. For whatever reason, cycles are overlooked even though there is HARD physical evidence that says otherwise.

Mayan Calendar - 3113 BC
Adam - 3897 BC

What's the chance there's a zero or other number missing here.

31,130 would fit nicely with your 31,000 number and 38,970 would amazingly fit well with the emergence of Cro-Magnon man.

Hmm...

Embossed carving example below (imgur) - these demonstrate that there was an advanced era that for this type of technology (simultaneous and global). BUT they should not exist in a one cycle linear timeline.

On the left is Kom Ombo Temple on the Nile of Egypt and on the right is a T-Pillar of Gobekli Tepe in Turkey.

**Embossed carvings are also found in Sumerian artwork.*

Many depictions can be found within the varied global artworks from statues to hieroglyphs also included in rock art.

Deities are often represented as supernatural beings created in the likeness of gods and goddesses. Cultures worshipped and believed the varied deities controlled the everyday life events also exerting force in certain aspects over the Earth, which we also know the Moon and Sun to do, with larger bodies of the Galaxy and Universe exerting exponential control over our Solar System.

The artwork of the ancients often represents these mysterious gods in elaborate headdress as we see with the Sumerian Gods, and included are Egyptian to Mayan, to the Hindu gods created in this epic form.

The god Brahma is said to have created Earth and all its living life forms, while Vishnu is the god whom preserves and protects our universe. Shiva is the god which destroys the universe then recreating it, known as 'creating order from chaos'.

The Greek Pantheon includes 12 members, and the Zodiac includes the same number. The Pleiades are referenced as the Seven Sisters, as Orion is referenced as the Hunter - all depicted in human form, sometimes with their heads not attached to the bodies, as the ancients believed they were alive explained as 'Bodies in Motion' therefore depicted in human bodies claimed as Gods consequently drawn or depicted with Crowns, thus accounted as Rulers of ages or Kings of the Heavens.

Certain gods were depicted with 'wings' to impress the divine constant movement of fluid flight to planets and stars throughout the cosmos.

There are many other cultures who reference this evolved understanding of deities which is also included in scripture:

"Canst thou bind the sweet influences of Pleiades, or loose the bands of Orion?" Job 38: 31

The word deity means "divine nature" which prompts us to ponder when investigating our ancient history -

Have we really understood the meaning to our archaic monuments and worldwide etchings including our cultural mythologies?

It's quite possible the ancients left us messages in the form of riddles, stories and songs such as the earliest civilization presented through Sumerian knowledge, as they understood songs are memorable, and a good story always gets retold and passed on throughout the ages. Parable riddles to what we will experience regarding a cyclic solar episode in the future as prophesied in the gospel of Revelation.

If there be gods, do we truly know their historical meaning; a meaning that should rightfully be divulged with an astronomical divine nature understood through modern intelligence..?

Here's how Chichen Itza's Solar City was decoded as our Solar System per each temple and platform.

- The Venus Pyramid platform - the name speaks for itself.
- The Observatory pyramid..if you were observing the sun and other planets of our solar system, as we are Earthlings - the Observatory Pyramid would represent Earth and its smaller platform would be our moon.
- The temple of the Warrior Twins is Mars as throughout world mythology Mars is always portrayed as a warrior.
- The courtyard of the temple of a Thousand Warriors adorned by columns adjacent to the Warrior Twins Mars platform equals our solar systems 'inner' asteroid belt and its thousands of fragmented meteorites.
- Platform of the Skulls is Mercury. We know mercury is dangerous to humans therefore the danger symbol is given as a skull.
- The temple of the Bearded Man is Jupiter as a beard signifies age and Jupiter is suspected in astronomy as our solar systems eldest planet.
- The Jaguar temple Uranus, another of our solar systems distant planets sits adjacent the Ball Court to the Bearded Man as they watch the perpetual ball dance Mercury portrays.
- Platform of Eagles and Jaguars is Saturn with its vast rings and many circling moons.
- The Sacred Cenote, our solar system's furthest planet Neptune.

These are pre-diluvian.

The Egyptian Kings List is somewhat similar except it deals more with astronomy where the Sumerian Kings List records our human family tree and its branches.

EKL starts with Gods and then demi-gods and lastly flesh and blood human Kings as does the SKL after the deluge.

The Sumerian Kings List simply catalogues us back 240,400 years.

The 3rd decade of the 21st century and we're still wrestling with our 'Missing Link'.

Share

A really, really bad catastrophe that destroyed our solar systems 5th planet (now the asteroid belt) set everything in motion. That highly intelligent advanced race from what we affectionately call planet 'Junah' are responsible for Earth's great megalithic works and much more.

The missing link and our human family tree's various dead-end branches have long baffled scientists - but there is an answer - just like the decoding of Chichen Itza's Solar City layout and the Sumerian Kings List we have a logical and common-sense hypothesis.

Wish you could join me for a fireside chat and wait for "the pasta to stick to wall" while challenging our minds one day about our past ages... I have been researching this for decades now.

There is an escaping remnant each time. Elucidated from three sources: The 1860 KJV; the Codex Argenteus; and the Great Pyramid; all three share a similar timeline. The one coming up is our last overlap. The end of time is the destruction of aggregate matter.

Overlap Timeline of the Ages:

1/2 Overlap 1603 Years

21,414 BC The first age cataclysm lasted 10 days. EQ's and Volcanoes.

(see Num. xvi. 1-10)

2/3 Overlap 1367 Years

12,098 BC The second age cataclysm lasted 7 years. Drought & Famine. Micro Nova. (see Latch, Ashworth, Parsons, Alan, Delair, LaViolette, Schoch, Vogt, Dunning, Davidson, et. al.) (see Rev. viii. 8, 9)

3/4 Overlap 1656 Years

2241 BC The third age cataclysm lasted 1 year. World wide flood. (see Gen. vii. 17-20)

4/5 Overlap 847-855 Years

2133 to 2183 AD The fourth, ours coming up, will only take an hour. Micro Nova?

Millenium

2853 to 3853 AD The Thousand Years.

End of Time 110 Years

3853 to 3963 AD The final end of time on Earth will take 110 years, after the expiration of the thousand years. Ice & Hail Storms, along with iron core asteroids, destroys the entire surface of the globe.

Remember, Chan Thomas said: "Less than one percent of all life survives. What do these people have? Neither a pencil to write with nor a shovel to dig with. Their clothing lasts only three months, so they're forced to use stone tools, skins for clothes, caves for living. They are intelligent enough to do what it takes to survive by going back to a Stone Age to survive. It's their offspring that they don't have time to educate who get stupid. And their grandchildren and their grandchildren's grandchildren."

Less than one percent of all life survives. That would be approximately 80 million people or so. None of them could just start fresh? I love thinking about these things, but it just doesn't make sense to me that civilization needs to start from scratch after every cataclysm.

I would imagine that the first ones to emerge from caves or wherever would find some infrastructure and technology.

They would appropriate and jealously guard it, and perhaps become the new ruling class.

Meanwhile, since the machine is broken there is no manufacturing and everything else degrades into legends of magic.

I bet ruling families have some cool stuff stashed away. I've read stories of tech coming from under the pyramids as late as 1700's.

That's a Hollywood version.

Our hypothesis for what sets off the solar micro-nova is a big and wide field of asteroids - remains of the 5th planet implosion that had escape velocity to exit our heliopause and Oort cloud.

We then pass back through it after X-tens of thousands of years on our solar orbit.

Between the asteroids and the sun going to war with the asteroids (War in the Heavens) Earth and her inhabitants will go through extreme punishment.

Just one example would be HUGE towering rolling tsunami's that could last for days or weeks. These will wash everything in their path into the oceans. Then there's the 25% of Earth that burns, 10 mag EQ's, volcanic eruptions, 200-mph cyclones and the like.

Earth will be replenished, renewed, resurrected..

That's the meaning behind Christs death and resurrection.

Native Americans first established it with their Totem Pole beliefs.

Life, Love, Humanitarianism, Death and Resurrection.

It'll be a good long time after the micro-nova is settled and past that humans will eating bugs and struggling to survive before we begin to reform civilization as the Sumerians did in our timeline.

One thing that was stashed in the design and construction of the Great Pyramid is the metric system.

We re-discovered it in the 1700's and that led directly to our advancement in the Industrial Age.
