Every night i have a dream of an alternate or parallel reality

Anonymous Coward User ID: 9118983 Canada 12/30/2022 05:54 AM Report Abusive Post Report Copyright Violation	Every night i have a dream of an alternate or parallel reality This was getting strange, but now it's getting ridiculous. I am not supposed to be where i am and something went very very wrong with this version of reality. Every night something or someone keeps showing me better versions of reality. The towns and cities are all growing, the malls and restaurants, and hotels are thriving, the theaters, there is no decay. I am on the wrong side. I saw mall world. I saw versions where i made different choices. I saw some that were absolutely horrible. I know I used to be some sort of reality shifting diety or angel or djinn. Something is severely wrong in this version.

I've seen it too, makes you want to keep going back. Whether it's real or just a mental construct. Something nostalgic about it, even when it's unrecognizable.

Good, that the truth is getting to you.

These type of dreams like the one OP describes are what i talked about in my thread here, Thread: Many people are now having dreams of not going to make it to Heaven

These type of dreams are the signs you wont make it to Heaven. Because you are rejecting the better reality and want to stay in a lower reality where evil can thrive. All because you cannot be who you want to be in Heaven.

Imagine an FM dial, with various Earths lined up...

Earth 92.8 FM

Earth 93.4 FM

etc, etc.

As you go right, there are better earth timelines.

As you go left, there are worse.

The left/right timeline mental-diagram is a way of conceptualizing something we can barely understand... but it serves as a working model.

In our dreams and visions, we get visions of better and worse Earths in the Multi-verse.

~O~

The trick is, to keep making correct choices, so you end up making micro-hops to better timelines.

Nothing sci-fi about it... we do it all the damn time.

So...

Keep slllllllliddddddinnggg to the right.

You keep on pushing the same message. Your arrogance and narcissism comes off so strongly. Your message of denigration and attempts to push fear, doubt, and uncertainty into the hearts of beings is not very godlike or heavenly.

I've spoken to you many times before, and you still seem stuck on this false concept of people who have bad dreams are not getting into heaven. You say people choose to be in a lower reality where evil can thrive. Have you ever considered the perspective that evil exists because most people are in ignorance of the oneness with each other and God?

My dreams are clearing up, the parasites that once infested them cannot stand in the light of what WE ALL ARE. Instead of having good thoughts, affirming positive, you waste your mind and thoughts on believing and spreading a message of Hell and separation. You talk about your "god" as a being separate from who you really are, not just the ego. Who do you really serve? Think about it.

Stop trying to create separation between God and all of God's emanations, which we are all part of and are. If I were to use a line from the Bible, it would be to "get behind me Satan."

Your message has emotional tones that I sense are trying to cause fear, distortion, deception, and negativity. Does that make you feel better to try to put others down? Is it another form of attempted emotional control to fill an emptiness in your heart? What do you think happens when no one accepts your offers that you send emotionally through the energy of your message?

What do you think happens when what you are offering energetically is refused? To whom does the offering then belong to? Think about what you are offering because if no one bites it comes back directly to you. Even if someone does bite your lure, what you offer and do for others you are doing for your own awareness.

All your deception, lies, and attempts to create fear and division cannot be good for you or others. Instead of spreading positivity, you spread filth, attempted fear, and judgement. I hope that you can change your perspective.

This was getting strange, but now it's getting ridiculous. I am not supposed to be where i am and something went very very wrong with this version of reality. OP, I hope you can still keep faith and hope that things will change for the better. As you saw in dreams, or other aspects of your consciousness, things get better. All will work out for the better in the end.

This reality that we currently perceive is not real. Bad dreams do end. All comes from goodness and love, and we all are part of the One and one with the One ineffable source of goodness and love.

This world has hardships, difficulties, and many issues. Most of us all have contributed to this negativity at some level either through thoughts, intentions, actions, or just negligence. We can make it better through intentions and working on ourselves to become better beings.

Don't lose hope, don't give into fear. Don't by the lies of fear and pain. These things go away, and are temporary. What we all are, the spirit, is eternal and is from divine love and goodness. I hope you can keep your focus on that and align with the divine spirit and God within you.

I dont want to live in an illusion where everything is fine for ""Some"" people while alot of others like myself are living better when the truth is known. For the people that this is bad news, they didnt have to die, but choose to do it anyway, so i dont care that this is bad news for them and upsets them.
