An inner joyousness, amounting to ecstasy, is the normal condition of the "genius" mind.

LOOSH: A term applied to energy produced by human beings and animals that other entities use to feed from. It is also used to refer to the energy that is produced by suffering that entities feed. From books by Robert Monroe. Maybe a play on the French word Louche.[1]

The mind is a crazy thing bro

Sometimes I feel the darkness purposely bombards our mind in a sort of psychological trauma based attack. It's hard to explain. Like events around you hurt your mind and you can hold it or release it. Words visions dreams songs movies all bombard the mind in a way. Or gambling let's say you win a little then bam lose a lot. Or drinking one two three drinks a month to 7 a day. It all effects our brain.

With that being said .

Inner peace truly is amazing. Simple. But not Easy.

I will dwell in you. And you in me. And I will walk with my people .

The Mind IS a "crazy" thing.

One once said that the genius ends up in the loony bin at least once in their lives. Alan Watts said one should "lose oneself" every day for proper health of mind/body/spirit. He also said that when one begins entering more subtle states of mind through whatever practices one can experience oneself as "going insane". One must either have a guide or take great care in maintaining proper balance of their mind/body/spirit instrument/complex. Me personally, I'm not very advanced, but have indeed experienced certain aspects of Mind that are, as you say, quite "crazy". And ecstatic. Rapturous. Unspeakably blissful. High awe/wonder. Magic.....

The "darkness" is a trippy paradox. I oft think of the yin yang. Dark contains light, light contains dark. There is a Taoist saying that says when the darkness becomes whole/complete, it turns into light. I came across this quotation whilst researching "dark room retreat".. Literally, when one sits/is in darkness for 14 days, the pineal secretes naturally DMT (day 12ish). Amazing, no?

Hold it, or release it.. Indeed. Forgive Self/other, or not. That which one rejects/fails-to-forgive becomes the corner-stone of one's experience, no? Hence the importance of "feeling it to heal it". So many appear to be not yet at the point of being honest enough with oneself in order to step up onto the next rung of the "evolutionary ladder".

Words/visions-thoughts/frequencies "bombarding the mind" - Indeed. Psychic self-defense comes to mind. Guarding one's mind at all times. Christ's instruction of "take no thought" (meditation) is a helpful exercise though if one finds oneself in a highly traumatized state one must first address these materials. What you say also highlights the paramount importance of taking great care in what we allow in to our minds. Both Christ & Gotoma Buddha said more important than diet is input/condition in/of Mind.

Inner Peace is Natural. Bliss/Ecstasy/Joy are Natural. One simply must "return" to these states. RE-MEMBER.

Be well

An inner joyousness, amounting to ecstasy, is the normal condition of the "genius" mind.

Walter Russell built $30 million worth of co-operative apartments back in 1930's how many apartments would that have been back in 1930's?

that would be like $3 billion worth of co operative apartments, and also, if the tenets own the apartments, they don't pay rent.

what ever happened to that idea?

we live in a world where evil people don't WANT us to be sane, or healthy, or enjoy life, they want to enjoy life by HARMING US, that is their joy and their ecstasy, OUR SUFFERING.

we must KILL THEM ALL in order to achieve peace, sanity and any sort of future

Are they not you from another view?

Is violence on violence the soul-ution?

In this experience of duality a "law of confusion" permeates throughout.

What do you reckon happens when you "kill"? What do you assume happens to said imbalanced unit of consciousness?

Does it vanish from Creation?

I am not offering any solution in my response as I reckon said solution comes through an inner flowering of consciousness on individual/collective level. This solution is unique and one in the same for all of us.

What master does one serve?

how many apartments could be built, AT COST for $5 billion dollar?

$5000 should be enough to build a very nice , 1000 square foot unit

so that would be a MILLION apartments, for fucking $3 billion dollars our government spends $6 trillion dollars a year. that is OUR wealth, that WE generated, NOT THEM. They STEAL it from us by FORCE and coercion.

to build everyone in the country a free apartment, man woman and child, so that nobody is an economic hostage to any other person, no abused wives or children, how much would that cost?

5*300=1500 billion, $1.5 trillion would buy ownership of a 1000 square foot apartment for everyone, everyone would have total freedom, for 25% of what the federal government spends in a single year remember that doesn't even count the endless taxes like state sales tax on things, that's federal income taxes.

sales tax alone, gas tax, should pay for housing, food, school, recreation, EVERYTHING SHOULD BE FREE, OR ELSE it's free for them but not you.

Self defense is necessary in a sick society. I'm not invalidating it I am however pointing to a higher path one/all can take if one/all choose.
