I wish to issue a New Currency...

It will be called the Doozlecoin, and be backed by the most rarefied Abraxas loosh.

Currently learning Solidity/Ethereum. Have managed (I think) to push a test token to the ethereum chain.

Experiments ongoing.

Any advice?

How can we find the sweet spot between lawful money and crypto?

Re: I wish to issue a New Currency...

I can see the ads for it now: "It's almost legal tender!"

Or,

"I can't believe it's not money!"

How about calling it Special K? Then it can be "Keep the intaglio engraving, lose the store of value!"

It's a non-fkable-token. And what is a non-fungible-token anyway? Its just a techie-hipster name for money, but named strangely enough to keep the regulators confused and appeased.

~O~

Actually the first premium Doozlecoins will be veneered black obsidian cubes, linked to the blockchain, delivered in a black anodized metallic case.

There will be 3 denominations at first.

Got to issue actual coins.

The smartpay dystopian factions are frightful bores...

Lets get crypto into the streets, into people's hands.

Non-fkable? It ain't even sexy! All those coins are denominated in dollars, aren't they? So when the dollar goes, so do they. It's fairy dust all the way down. What's the purpose of these things, anyway? Freedom from regulatory oversight? A new Silk Road? I don't get it.

Re: I wish to issue a New Currency...

1) Keep it Localized and Specialized.

2) ONE USE, IN ONE TOWN. i.e. Cleaning up trash in Danshui.

3) Make it easily scalable with two web-pages:

i) Simple, 1-2 page, pre-formatted, exquisitely designed docs on Github.

ii) One pane (HTML/CSS/Javascript in one window) easily editable, exquisitely designed codepen.

4) Avoid legal issues by focusing 90% on code, and keeping it "fix-The-Earth" oriented.

An abstract Silk Road. That's a beguiling concept.

Purpose? Good question:

- Humans creating value without begging it from banks (digital implementation of lawful money principles)

- Funneling premium Abraxas loosh into the EArth aether-system.

- A philosophical experiment.

- A good way to practice Javascript skills.

- Fun.

- Freedom from regulators, as you say (who made the governments regulators, anyway)

- Niche-specific currencies are very interesting.

Buy a token and...

... someone cleans up trash for an hour

... someone plants a tree.

... someone grows some duckweed.

~O~

I'm not going to be open-source crypto-boy, tricking the public onto Steve's-Smart-Grid.

I have a different path. It's hard to articulate.

Questions welcome.

Make them as straightforward and tough as you please.

Re: I wish to issue a New Currency...

As we know, there are games within games, and products within products.

If you watch The Show, Aren "knows things".

He took this poor and blind muggle to the games floor on the 4th floor of SOGO. In true Taiwanese style, he kept his mouth shut and ignored all my questions.

Yet I could not shake the feeling there was another game going on under my nose.

Why did he want those tokens?

~O~

Now, to get to the point...

Along with all the other practical uses I described;

What if buying a premium Abraxascoin granted the buyer access to a backstage reality owned by My Family for a certain amount of time.

Obviously that would not be explicitly stated.

Nothing is, in this world.

I know enough of Taipei to know there are hidden games all over the place. The closest I got was in Ximending. I've done alright in Danshui too, though I suspect

I wish to issue a New Currency...

I've only scratched the surface.

So...

Buying an Abraxascoin lets you access the F-Verse for X days.

Sounds like a good LARP.

I already wrote a trial doc on the F-Verse... it can be accessed by everyone, I think.

Whatever astral/etheric playgrounds you built, We can do better.

~O~

But there will be ultra-pragmatic applications too.

It takes a while to unpack the whole vision.

How do the tree planters, garbage cleaners etc. get incentivized?

Do they get loosh or doozle?

Are these edible like TARDCOIN?

Doozlecoin has too many syllables and, frankly, no panache.

Further, authentic loosh cannot be token-ized. A fail from the outset, as when a US food conglomerate announced PHO in a can.

May I suggest calling your currency the GUMP...as in FORREST GUMP. A potential MENTOR for your new ENDEAVOUR?

Also sounds like HUMP or GIMP, pejorative references to a largely untapped and under-served demographic in the system REBOOT already underway.

Re: I wish to issue a New Currency...

You have the store of value and currency you need.

Gold and Silver.

It is REAL, it comes from mother earth.

Bankers, politicians cant just print it out of thin air.

But, if you prefer unicorn dreams, monkey farts, bit coin, stuff like that, that is cool.

The needs lots of suckers.

Regarding your first question, you will get premium blend DZN loosh.

Do you watch The Great and Secret Show?

Cast your mind back a few years, before the Troubles... when I was a Crowley-addled teenager, bringing hope and joy to millions. Or just annoying everyone.

Press release:

Remember the magic innocence of the Dirty/Evol tape? The unbridled joy of the GBV EPs? The Raymond Carver short stories, especially Cathedral and Fat? Going to the wilderness golf course and listening to Slint.

It's no secret that The Show has been a bit disappointing the last few years. Hopefully Saul's contacts will change that.

They said 3 days.

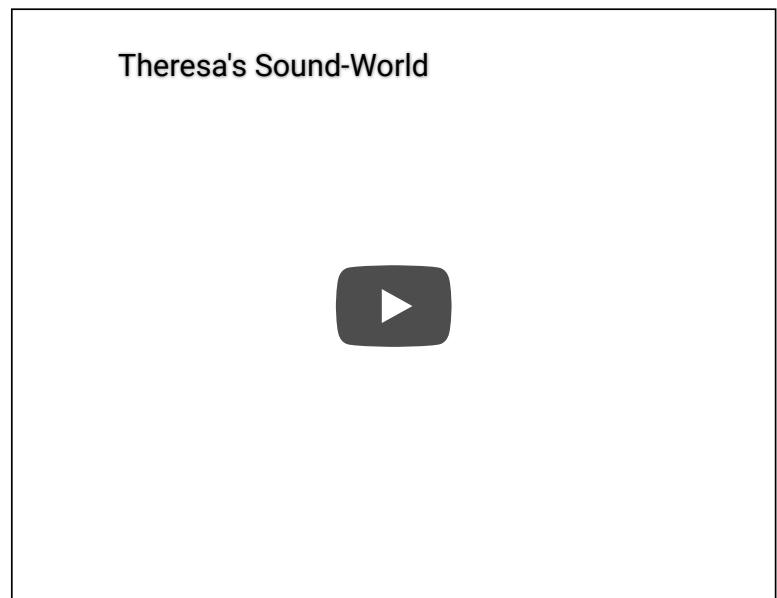

~O~

Regarding the loosh situation:

Currently some Earthlings have all greatly displeased and disappointed Our House.

So supply is being restricted.

If Saul of Hsinchu's associates come through (It is 50/50 that they will)... a New Broadcast Era will begin.

Re: I wish to issue a New Currency...

Lord Rupert makes a good point, loosh is alive, and cannot properly be tokenized, per se.

So maybe AbraxasCoin can grant access to:

- Premium broadcasts in the livestream.
- Access to Our areas in the backstage reality.
- Anything else (taking suggestions).

I'm sure We can build something better than your pitiful "Mall World"

I got about halfway through. With respect, it was a little anodyne. Maybe it was laden with bird language clues, but I didn't see them.

Why don't you lot ditch the tuxedos and champers and join the hoi polloi by the riverside? Does it get better than a mountain and a river? Stars > Chandeliers.

Alex comes off like a double bass player... Nat, harder to say... multi-instrumentalist, maybe piano with a smidgen of drums.

Or maybe they (or anyone) could intensively learn 2-3 languages, and become true international diplomats. 6 hours of language lessons with a charismatic 1-on-1 teacher. There are worse ways to spend an afternoon. I hope to learn Indonesian, Tagalog, Hungarian, and more Chinese. The lessons may be good viewing.

Music is optional, but I cannot see how a leader in his right mind can't see the extreme, socially exponential value in learning 2-3 foreign languages...

Not advice, just a dream.

I am really writing this for myself. Got to woodshed. The 2009 Rofsy disclosure emphasized this again and again. We have the tools, we just don't use them.

~O~

No doubt money is good...

I wish to issue a New Currency...

But Muscles, Music and Mandarin...

Therein lie inner treasures.

~O~

Back to the world of finance: The first proof-of-concept of AbraxasAEther will be focused on trash collection. It should be specialized and localized enough for me to get that done.

Higher state of being?

I guess, by using fedres notes, you are contractually implying you are an owned slave, chained to an imaginary talisman.

I do like the idea of a crypto coin somehow carrying redemptive energy. I don't think it's in the coin itself...

..but maybe buying one will let people gain access to a coveted etheric playground? Im sure LARPer's will be interested in the Abraxas Universe.

I'll have to think about this...

Thanks for the ideas.

Lord Rothschild,

Have you assembled a marketing dept yet?

First product has been renamed to Abraxas Aether, as per your advice.

Is Alan Sugar a member of your coven?

I shall need to hire him, and Gordon Ramsey, if I ever managed to redeem myself, via crypto, or the lawful money route. I may have some monies to disburse. I don't expect this time-point to come much before Christmas, but you never know. Could be way earlier, or way later.

Both Alan's and Gordon's 'no nonsense attitude' will be most welcome.

Let me know if you have any thoughts, or other suggestions for marketers.

Regards,

DZN

Your respect has been noted, Daozen. Such a simple thing..and yet, so difficult for most.

Marketing, and the concept thereof, is ANATHEMA to the Gentleman Class and higher. Horrifying, in fact.

One makes acquaintances, business associations, political contacts...even friendships (although rare) but one NEVER presents ones-self in such a grotesque, self-serving manner.

Look up some synonyms of MARKETING and, at some point, will come pejorative terms such as CARNIVAL BARKER, SLICK, GREASY and the like. Look up GENTLEMAN and you will find no such word associations.

No one trusts MARKETERS because their objectives are too CLEAR and TRANSPARENT. To use one of your words, VILE.

How can one trust another who has a stated goal to obtain your consent to their offer regardless of BENEFIT or DETRIMENT to those receiving the proffered product?

Would you not consider an offer from someone you considered LEARNED/ERUDITE seriously? Someone you RESPECTED or FEARED?

Your ACTIONS and WORDS identify your CLASS.

WORDS AND ACTIONS are the keys to the INSURMOUNTABLE LOCKS AND BARRIERS some find so daunting.

Were you to properly present yourself, word would trickle out through the right channels about DOOZLECOIN...open to only the select FEW.

EXCLUSIVE. People want that, and exclusivity becomes part of the store of value.

VALUE-ABLE....en ABLE the VALUE proposition.

That's why DOOZLECOIN, as a name and concept is a FAIL.

But I already told you that.

Your reboot fails as well, for similar reasons.

One final thought, as requested; GORDON RAMSEY and the whole ANGRY GENIUS belongs not in the realm of MONETARY DYNAMICS. The angry artist is not of this realm.

Cool, calm, collected.

Quiet confidence.

Reliable.

Smarter than thou without needing to state the obvious.

Banking class are grey and NAMELESS as INDIVIDUALS...carrying only the family imprimatur.

Thank you for the reply,

Lots of wisdom, but I think you may be overly cynical.

I understand no one likes an oily marketer, but you have to let people know what you did ~somehow~.

- Stanley Kubrick slaves away making a movie.
- He wants to let people know he made it.
- Some bright young interns assemble posters, trailers, beer mats, etc etc.

Now, because of a Warner Bros beermat in The Goat pub, someone might go and see Eyes Wide Shut, and have a transcendental experience.

Nothing wrong with that, AS LONG AS the product is good, and stands on its own merit.

On reflection, maybe I meant Representative, not marketer.

Yes, I'm going to stay mainly behind the scenes.

"No more famous than Linus Torvalds or DHH" is my current rule.

I'm sure the wheels will eventually creak towards open source cooperation with one group or another. .

My fear is people trying to get me under their thumb. I've chewed up handlers like Satay sticks this year. Amusing, but also tedious.

Do you ever work with a simple non-binding MOU, instead of a 7 page contract?

Whatever happened to verbal agreements? Yes, they can be broken, but so can contracts.

~O~

Must go everyone, in Hualien for the week... Catch me on the Doozlecam.

Best Wishes,

DZN
