This world is ruckin fidiculous

eventually, we all pass on out of the body and go to the beautiful consciousness of love that permeates all of existence, call it God or whatever you want...

...then, there is this place, a video game for souls to play an extremely long session of family and political drama...

...It's like there is a Blockbuster Video on the other side and when you are bored, you check out a movie that you get to star in like Total Recall and us conspiracy theorists rented the conspiracy "wake me up" thriller on the crazy planet run by the invisible black hand of corruption and lies...

...one day, we will leave these bodies and the game console will appear us as a body that no longer moves as we get up to throw some water on our faces and get some guacamole and seasoned salt from the refrigerator and go outside and breathe fresh air again and remember that this was all just a dream, a game to keep occupied for a moment in eternity, a lifetime for the body, a drop in the bucket for the soul...

Pretty good OP.

One exit route is drifting out the crown chakra, right?

Re: This world is ruckin fidiculous

This person makes a comment to me as though he/she knows me or anything about me, my livelihood, my grandparents etc.

You know absolutely nothing about me whatsoever. And here's the thing, even if you did and I was all the things you want to say about me...you are presupposing that I should take an order from you.

Are you trying to enslave me?
 If you are, I will rightfully kill you where you stand.

Re: This world is ruckin fidiculous

I am saying this world is an absolute shit show, which it is and if you are here at GLP, you are here because it is a shit show and the gaslighting of that shit show caused you to come here to comment on the gaslighting.

I'm just saying what a lot of people here probably realized and needs to be said -- this world is a big chimp fest with one group abusing another group trying to establish dominance and there is nothing and I mean NOTHING evolved on this planet -- this is the absolute bottom rung of evolution from the point of view of love being an all permeating force of good throughout the cosmos -- this has to be the most desperate act of life anywhere (Earth) where everything is killing everything else before it gets killed too -- it's a dog eat dog world and everybody is either biting something or about to get bitten by something.

One can only hope for some respite from all of this...a vacation out of the body where the killing fields can disappear in the rear view mirror of existence.

If the government owns you and you depend on bureaucrats for housing and money. You trust a bureaucrat so you can eat

You lost all rights to complain

Life might be cool for the Heeren Loo party boyz.

But most of you don't like to share, so the rest of us don't have it as good as we could.
