The reason we are all apathetic

The reason we are all apathetic... is because of acceptance.

I don't really mean in racial terms of "Accepting other races".

I mean in energy terms, and personality, and morality even.

There are too much of too many different kinds of people all "intermingling" and demanding acceptance.

Heres a simple example. Let's say theres a kid who was good at school... not because he liked it but because it was an escape from his abusive family. His parents while abusive did value "good grades" and hated criminals.

Then you go to school... and find the school full of hateful bullies, who get SHIT grades and they love rap music and weapons and football and all sorts of stupid shit. They worship criminals too. They think its funny. All sorts of violence is funny to them. Especially abusing children.

So... that "good kid" would naturally find their personalities to be disgusting and low and stupid and awful... people who will never go anywhere in life... right? Without good grades how will they?

Turns out... the good kid was sold a lie, by his parents and the school. Good grades don't get you through life. Having people who want to help you through life will... even if that's just "being one of the bros" and giving each other building work.

BUT... one thing remained. That FEELING OF "UUUGH WHAT LOW DISGUSTING PEOPLE.... I DON'T NEED ANYTHING FROM THEM". It is what engergerised the "good kid" to create amazing inventions and things in life. To build his own reality.

Well that created an amazing reality... but one that isn't accepted by this world. It's as accepted as alien-life is. That is... humans react against it. Or destroy it.

Later in life finding out even the new breed of "dumb hateful kids" are not a problem anymore, he's too grown for it to affect him... he might even find their enthusiasm entertaining.

He's now in much more public facing jobs. More "diferente kinds of people to accept".

More energies that conflict with his own original morals. The energy of what he needs and doesn't need. Like doing art with energy-work... expressed through vibes and clothing and speech.

Their energies just don't match his. But HE HAS TO ACCEPT THEM. Or else... he can't deal with them. Not sell things to them, or trade.

So he is dealing and being friendly with people who are fundamentally against his existence. Just to "earn a living".

THAT Kind of acceptance, of "bad people who are against you" is what is draining us.

All these fucking morons on youtube these days. Bodybuilders, rugby players... the same kind of losers those "hateful bullies" would admire. And now if I am not nice to these "role models".... that makes me a bad person?

It makes me an ENERGISED PERSON!! Accepting them makes me a deflated person.

I SHOULD dislike those losers.

Accepting others isn't a bad thing. Accepting everyone just removes all meaning and fun from life.

People should have differences. Things to keep people apart. This creates energy and tension.

I don't mean that we should hate others. But it is like fish in the sea. I can't go and live in the sea, so "falling off a boat" causes TENSION in me. I will be more nervous around the ship's edge... it creates fear which increases energy. Excitement. It becomes an adventure. "A place I shouldn't be... under the sea".

I don't hate fish. I don't want to kill all fish because they live in the sea. I'm happy for the fish to be with the fish. They can just be there.

But I don't want to have to accept swimming in a murky mucky pool my whole life, because all the fish want to live where I live, and take over MY WORLD and force me to have to deal with them, or else I can't get any fucking money.

Obviously fish don't do that.

But human asshole abusive violent child-abusing bullying schoolkids do. They have taken over everything and made it shit. Taken over youtube, taken over gaming. They are destroying all creativity, and then need to be "accepted".

I want those shitty bullies and the kind of dickheads they grew up into... to go into their own place.... a different society, that doesn't need me, and I don't need them.

Re: The reason we are all apathetic

Apathy and acceptance are not mutually exclusive though. 2 different things

It is better to trust in the Lord than to put confidence in man. -Psalm 118:8

No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper. -Isaiah 54:17

*"I have certain rules I live by. My first rule: I don't believe anything the government tells me."

Re: The reason we are all apathetic

You're just lazy...

You're used to being spoon-fed..

and you believe...

everything you are told... is all you need to know!

But it's not !

And when you realize it's not... it's fight or flight.

you'll either run away...

or get pissed... keep researching...

to make sure you've got the WHOLE TRUTH...

and fight back !

Because the great life you should be living...

was stolen from you before we ALL were born, by liars !

I agree about 80%. There IS a way forward, believe me. But it is a hard path to tread It's very easy to misstep. We can adapt some working methodologies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Stop talking to anyone who disrespects you politely and immediately - "well it was nice talking to you, but I have to go home now. Take care"- That simple phrase - it was nice talking - strikes terror into the heart of an abuser. - Learn to grey rock people, but still chat amicably. People I don't like, i put them on Dark Grey Rock. Will barely look at them. People who I need to be on reasonable terms with (colleagues/family/neighbours) I might put them on Happy Grey Rock. That means 5 minutes of courteous chatting is OK. Think concentric circles. - Build things which are beautiful and useful. That is one of the only paths out of here. They accepted Tolkien, Slash, and Gaudi, right?

- Keep the majority of people at arms length. Set a high energy, and only let respectful people in.
- Expect 4-5 star treatment from everyone, likewise, give everyone else 4-5 star treatment. Continually discard people who fall below the line. Better ones will come along if you toss away the defective ones.
- Music, Languages, Sport, Inventing - These are the paths to greatness.

We can find a path out of here, to be sure. But yeah. I have no fundamental disagreement with your OP. The world is half full of dumb, nasty people... Don't rebuke them. IGNORE THEM!!!

Find the 10% of humans who are truly awesome.
