Re: The most striking thing about the Anomaly is his sadness

how did humans evolve? they began using their hands. and carrying out complex tasks, and foreseeing future threats to their existence. these ape like creatures obviously developed a fantastic advantage and came to dominate all life forms.

they evolved by learning to 'work'. but in reality all living things create themselves, why don't all animals have hands? why don't birds have hands? why don't horses have 5 fingered hands?

raccoons and squirrels have little hands just like a human being why don't they build boats?

actually squirrels can construct very cool little houses, they will take mushrooms and cut them into strips and hang them in their nest , to eat them later, they are far more intelligent than you think. how did they learn to think? much of it is 'instinct'. why is the word 'stink' in instinct? hmm? think about it.

each successive generation must experience the grid from a new solipsistic perspective, because the old life form stagnates, it lives until it can go no further as that organism

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 84289321

Human Evolution has ceased to be physical and is MENTAL.

We have changed how we can think to higher forms of thinking and mental ability.

It is why they killed off the stupid ones who could not think for themselves with the Vaxx and future Vaxxes.

Evolution.

yes the 33 is the 33 bones of the SPINE. of a man OR a woman.

because the Chi travels up the spine to the brain. but WHY? HOW? how does chi form and travel up the spine to the brain!! surely this is the most incredible process in the universe!! right up there with photosynthesis!!

this song is about the man who turns into a beast, by figuring out how to wring all the chi out of his brain and achieve enormous quantities of pleasure.

pleasure's real, or is it fantasy?

well, if you understand one process, isn't it possible on then could you achieve the insight to reverse engineering the entire thing? wouldn't the gods stop him from telling you ?

Re: The most striking thing about the Anomaly is his sadness

He feels the pain of the world and everyone in it.

We live in a dark age where evil rules.

Sometimes it becomes unbearable to handle the reality of everything.
His demeanor becomes grim and silent.

He feels helpless because he knows there's only so much he can do.

He has the answers but he can't force people to listen to him.

He has already tried, and he can deliver the message better than anyone else, but it was a fruitless endeavour. All they do is laugh and mock him, or even worse, threaten him.

The masses are too indoctrinated. As time goes on society will continue falling apart and everyone will suffer more and more.

That will lead to some people finally waking up to the hellish reality we're facing.

But that's the thing, people need to do it on their own. Nobody can force them to see it.

So the Anomaly will wait for the day when society is more receptive to his message. He knows things will get a lot worse before that happens though, and it makes him sad.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80680728

You are well attuned. Keep listening. There will come a moment of great significance - a change so dramatic it will utterly reshape our perception of reality moving forward.

Most unfortunately, so much will be lost and there will be extraordinary sorrow in the interim. This was neither by desire nor intent, but a message having been delivered, that a great undoing must first precede the realization of transformation.

It is understandable, but vexing nonetheless. It is felt there MUST be another way, but the decision ultimately falls to the Most High, where true dominion lies - a place of unsurpassed wisdom, well beyond that which is anomalous.
