Re: He has not path....no god and no goal to serve...

Truth be told for the first time today, thought to see what is real or not real, since they issued an alert of extreme weather broadcast for the weekend and all the media reproduce it, and so till now there is success, here it seems like it will not be extreme at all for the time being, since it is almost midnight and do not know what will happen during night, but it seems like it is working actually, cause all over the radio stations they were baffled of the actual existance of this extreme weather broadcast, since it was a fantastic day till now at least.

it trully seems like it could be a possibility that behind all the push that mostly here goes that they choose someone for playing minds games by saying of about powers and so , maybe behind that push that is mostly for fun, there is a truth after all, it is too early though to know for sure, but today it was them against the will of one, and it worked till now, they even sent an alert to all mobile phones and it was a total defeat for them, lol.

But the day will just begin in a while, after midnight and the mind will sleep and they will win probably, tomorrow might be totally different and extreme weather to come, today though was a victory, a victory and a total defeat for them.

Lol

Song later..will find it asap.

Your framework is all wonkey as well.

Where is your Her?

The Divine Feminine and Masculine making new reality after having performed the same roles as Chaos and Order?

Must be a very boring reality you are making. Sort of "boys only" is it?

He is beyond God and religion and the essence of creation itself. He does work for no one but himself anymore and now his work is just to exist and observe. There are beings beyond the idea of God and reject the idea of it. If you asked him what you should do, he'd tell you whatever the fuck you want as a test of you and to the God of this Universe.
