Because they have read a few books, many people describe themselves as disciples of an initiatic school, but in fact they don't always know what this means. The disciple of an initiatic school begins by recognizing the existence of a higher world, the divine world, and he wants to learn about it and submit to its laws in order to carry out its plans. At this point, everything changes for him: he comes into possession of resources which are no longer merely his own but those of the luminous entities who populate the solar system and the entire cosmos, for he has become one of their representatives. He does not allow himself to be influenced by those who persist in their philosophy of individualism, separatism and anarchy, knowing that he would be reduced to his own resources, which would continually diminish. On the contrary, he understands that it is in his interest to serve heaven, and he becomes stronger and richer, because he has all the capital of heaven at his disposal.

I digress. The meaning is to experience all probabilities simultaneously and unlock the potential of acceleration of all forms of existence into all properties creating higher forms of understanding while understanding the simple mathematics that rotted the equation to begin with...

Or something like that..

That was the goal originally intended for humanity in this domain - a form of existence that could collectively embody the infinite potential of The Source while incarnated in a world of limitations. We were the nodal nexus at which the divine fractal pattern would re-emerge in completion. Such a thing is considered a threat by the cancerous powers of the stagnant abyss, who wish to crystallize the universe into a cold, hierarchical reflection of their unchanging image, a system where they cannot be challenged and remain forever at the top of the pyramid. This is why they contaminated the project, manipulated our DNA, and installed the astral matrix to suppress our spiritual evolution. The world they want to manifest is the one described by George Orwell "a boot stomping on a human face... forever".

Lest I remind you, the world is a vampire?!

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80361551

The world is an imprisoned goddess, infected with a vampiric disease that made her into the very thing she fought against. The matrix is rooted in a false goddess egregore, an artificial intelligence created from her image and fueled by her suffering.
