

Search

Forum Topics Adv. Search Directory

Welcome

Your Profile

Your Karma

Members Area

Custom Smilies

Custom Avatar

Custom Title

Site Theme

Mailbox \(0 new\)

Buddy List

Ignore List

Your Pins/Unpins

Personal Bans

Log Out

Back to Forum

Post New Thread

Reply

View Favorites

You are logged in as Daozen

Thanks for your support!

Account upgraded until 1/6/2023

Rate this Thread

☐ Absolute BS

☐ Crap

☒ Reasonable

☐ Nice

☐ Amazing

Vote!

Bottom

Search Replies

Previous Page

Next Page

Page 1 2 3 4

Is anybody still blind to tha fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 80299505

 Canada

12/06/2022 05:31 PM

Add to Favorites

Subscribe Email Notifications

Add to Personal Pins

Report Abusive Post

Report Copyright Violation

Is anybody still blind to tha fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

You guys get it yet?

[\[link to lifemeaning.me \(secure\)\]](#)

Anonymous Coward (OP)

User ID: 80299505

 Canada

12/06/2022 05:35 PM

Report Abusive Post

Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to tha fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

Sorry, I should have said assassinated.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 84316582

 United States

12/06/2022 05:36 PM

Report Abusive Post

Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to tha fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

They took him out because he wanted to disband the three letter agencies.

Anonymous Coward (OP)

User ID: 80299505

 Canada

12/06/2022 05:38 PM

Report Abusive Post

Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to tha fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

They took him out because he wanted to disband the three letter agencies.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 84316582

That was certainly part of the reason but the unifying force against him was the effort to get out of Vietnam by '65.

Anonymous Coward (OP)

User ID: 80299505

 Canada

12/06/2022 05:45 PM

Report Abusive Post

Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to tha fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

Unlike Dean Rusk and Lyndon Johnson, who died defending the myth that the war in Vietnam was inevitable, Robert S. McNamara essentially confessed to the facts which are responsible for the murder of President John F. Kennedy when he https://www.godlikeproductions.com/forum1/message5302490/pg1

1/11

said;

"...during the 1950s, 1960s, 1970s and 1980s the West often misperceived, and therefore exaggerated, the power of East and its ability to project that power, to have failed to defend ourselves against the threat would have been foolhardy and irresponsible.

That said, today I question whether Soviet or Chinese behavior and influence in the 1970s and 1980s would have been materially different had the United States not entered the war in Indochina or had we withdrawn from Vietnam in the early or mid-1960s. By then it should have become apparent that the two conditions underlying President Kennedy's decision to send military advisers to South Vietnam were not being met, and, indeed, could not be met: political stability did not exist and was unlikely ever to be achieved; and the South Vietnamese, even with our training assistance and logistical support, were incapable of defending themselves.

Given these facts-and they are the facts-I believe we could and should have withdrawn from South Vietnam either in late 1963 amid the turmoil following Diem's assassination or in late 1964 or early 1965 in the face of increasing political and military weakness in South Vietnam."

This retrospective confession proves that Robert McNamara was not a Cold War Ideologue like Dean Rusk and Lyndon Johnson, but he nevertheless acted like one and that is the tragic truth.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 73813172
 United States
12/06/2022 05:48 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

He saw enemies ways and attacked various methods.

Another was changing the money just before..

Anonymous Coward (OP)
User ID: 80299505
 Canada
12/06/2022 05:51 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

He saw enemies ways and attacked various methods.

Another was changing the money just before..

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 73813172

Money had nothing to do with his assassination. it was all about the Vietnam war.

While Nixon publicly exposed his commitment to get rid of the Kennedys, he did not say how he planned to accomplish his goal. At any rate, the fact that Nixon did not plan to defeat the Kennedys through legitimate political elections is quite obvious. In 1963, Nixon was the most popular Republican in the nation, yet despite the declared intention "to get the Kennedys out of there", he refused to run for the presidency until a shadowy committee to elect Richard Nixon was created in 1967. Political pundits, experts at creating a theory which matches the limit of public awareness, have repeatedly claimed that Nixon's decision not to run in 1964 was a brilliant tactical exploit. It was, they claim, foolish to challenge the unbeatable wave of popularity that brought Johnson a landslide victory in 1964. And so, it is popularly asserted, Richard Nixon, the brilliant statesman, staged one of the greatest political comebacks in American history, when he became the President in 1968. It is indeed a convenient theory but it ignores the fact that Nixon was not a typical politician but a man immersed in the shadowy world of secret politics. The fact that Nixon was largely a low key behind-the-scenes political operator until the Kennedys were assassinated, suggests that the so-called Nixon comeback was anything but legitimate. Politics, in the Nixon tradition was about behind-the-scenes plotting to destroy political enemies, it was not about fair play elections. And if Nixon did not aim for the presidency in 1964, it was not because he thought he couldn't win, but because the plotting of political cronies like J. Edgar Hoover precluded the possibility of a Nixon presidency in 1964. John Ehrlichman, Nixon's former counsel, made that quite evident when he said:

Hoover and Nixon had kept in touch during all the years Nixon was out of office. Rose Mary Woods had been Hoover's Nixon contact for the exchange of information and advice between them. Whenever Nixon travelled abroad as a private citizen, the FBI agents who posed as "legal attaches" in U.S. embassies were instructed by Hoover to look after Nixon. Hoover fed Nixon information during those years via Cartha De Loach, and through Lou Nichols, a retired Bureau assistant director who had become a distillery executive. But Hoover was more than a source of information -he was a political advisor to whom Nixon listened. (Witness to Power; The Nixon Years, 1982, Simon & Schuster, New York p.156-7)

And so, despite the popular belief that shrewd political acumen kept Nixon out of the White House race in 1964, the evidence suggests that Hoover dictated the Nixon decision to "wait it out". Indeed, pre-Kennedy assassination knowledge probably convinced Nixon to refrain from opposing Johnson in 1968. Clearly, evidence which strongly suggests that Nixon had foreknowledge about the Kennedy assassination is compelling. On November 21 1963, J. Edgar Hoover and Richard Nixon were at the home of wealthy oil baron Clint Murchison, in Dallas Texas. (p.14 High Treason) Murchison was a wealthy Texan who owned everything from the Dallas Cowboys to Henry Holt and Company, the publishing house that promoted the propaganda that Hoover published, to the racetrack where Hoover placed $100 bets, to the luxurious Del Charro Motel in California, where Hoover vacationed annually free of charge, to oil-gas interests... Murchison's empire, it appeared, was tailor-made to suit the interests of J. Edgar Hoover. The alliance between Hoover and Murchison was indeed like an ideal circle of corruption. Murchison, the recipient of huge loans from Teamster's pension funds, was evidently well served by the "politically correct" Teamster's union, whose administration was shaped by Hoover's capacity to blacklist the so-called un-Americans within. And the "dissent-free" Teamsters were at liberty to abuse pension funds at will. Business associates like Mafia crime boss Carlos Marcello gave Murchison additional "empire-building" clout. (mafia kingfish, p312)

Travelling in a circle which linked the Mafia, the Director of the FBI, Lyndon Johnson and ultra-Conservative wealthy Texan reactionaries who vilified Kennedy because he was supposedly soft on Communism, Richard Nixon was surrounded by people who were enthusiastic about supporting a plot to murder the President. In particular, the fact that Richard Nixon spent the eve of the assassination in Dallas Texas with Johnson and Hoover cronies, the oil-rich Murchisons, goes a very long way in casting a dark cloud of suspicion towards the arch-Republican Nixon, who virtually assured a Democratic landslide victory by not challenging Johnson in 1964. Like the ultra-Conservative Murchison, who provided financial support to the so-called liberal, Lyndon Johnson, Nixon secretly supported the Democrats, not the Republicans. Kennedy assassination plotters had evidently created "politically peculiar" secret alliances that escaped the notice of political pundits who promoted "Nixon the brilliant political comeback strategist" theories, to account for Nixon's conspicuous absence in 1964, and his "miraculous" return in 1968. What the pundits failed to explore is the probability that Richard Nixon did not run in 1964 in order to help Lyndon Johnson shed the scornful claim that he was the "accidental" President. Moreover, it is also safe to assume that Richard Nixon did not oppose the candidacy of Lyndon Johnson because he was absolutely certain that Johnson would reverse the foreign policy course of action that Kennedy had charted. If that was not clearly the case, there is no way that Nixon would have tolerated the "landslide mandate" that fell into Johnson's lap, through the decision to allow the "trigger happy" Barry Goldwater, to lead the Republicans.

Preoccupied by the need to cover up the truth about the Kennedy assassination, Lyndon Johnson publicly embraced the "let us continue" pledge, and with Nixon's undeclared support, "landslide Johnson" privately promoted the commitment "to begin", not where Kennedy had left off, but where Johnson and Nixon wanted to go. And so, like the convoluted plot of a Shakespearean play, the Nixon-assisted Lyndon Johnson landslide foreshadowed the dramatic new beginning in Vietnam -the introduction of the combat divisions that Kennedy had vigorously opposed. The popular misconception that Johnson and Nixon inherited the Vietnam war reflects a gross distortion maintained by obsessive secrecy and ignorant "punditeering". In actual fact, Nixon, Johnson, Hoover and the like, "engineered" the Vietnam war.

To be sure, since the man was murdered, the propaganda mill repeatedly churns out the fraud that Cold Warrior John F. Kennedy started the Vietnam War. We do not have the time nor the inclination to challenge 27 years of rhetoric, ignorance and fraud. We'll just tell you what John F. Kennedy said, and you can make up your own mind. John F. Kennedy said: "In 1965 I'll become one of the most unpopular Presidents in history. I'll be damned everywhere as a Communist appeaser. But I don't care. If I tried to pull out completely now from Vietnam, we would have another Joe McCarthy red scare on our hands, but I can do it after I'm reelected. So we had better make damned sure that I am reelected".

Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

 United States
12/06/2022 06:03 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

end the Vietnam War?

I'm sure it was a few things and not just one act.

I'm going with Jim Marrs on this one.

[\[link to en.wikipedia.org \(secure\)\]](#)

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 84887781
 United States
12/06/2022 06:04 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

You guys get it yet?

[\[link to lifemaining.me \(secure\)\]](#)

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80299505

I agree. Even the movie JFK concluded that President Kennedy was murdered because he planned to end the Vietnam war and hollywood is always the last to get it right.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 79289423
 United States
12/06/2022 06:07 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

You guys get it yet?

[\[link to lifemaining.me \(secure\)\]](#)

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80299505

Thoroughly documented. Thank you OP.

mondali2

User ID: 84848921
 Thailand
12/06/2022 06:07 PM
Send Private Msg
Add to Buddy List
Add to Ignore List
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

end the fed and go back to sound money, don't leave that out of the equation

mondali2

Anonymous Coward (OP)
User ID: 80299505
 Canada
12/06/2022 06:09 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

You guys get it yet?

[\[link to lifemaining.me \(secure\)\]](#)

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80299505

Thoroughly documented. Thank you OP.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 79289423

My pleasure.

Mr Bubble Guts
Offer Upgrade

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that

User ID: 84362019
United States
12/06/2022 06:10 PM

Send Private Msg
Add to Buddy List
Add to Ignore List
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

OP was a premise and a presumption.

Say it straight up ...

Dont make me dig through shit just cause you said so.

Anonymous Coward (OP)
User ID: 80299505
Canada
12/06/2022 06:12 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to tha fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

OP was a premise and a presumption.

Say it straight up ...

Dont make me dig through shit just cause you said so.

Quoting: Mr Bubble Guts

History is neither a premise nor a presumption. It is pure, unadulterated fact.

Read Case Open by Weisberg, that might wake you up.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 78845247
United States
12/06/2022 06:25 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to tha fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

OP was a premise and a presumption.

Say it straight up ...

Dont make me dig through shit just cause you said so.

Quoting: Mr Bubble Guts

History is neither a premise nor a presumption. It is pure, unadulterated fact.

Read Case Open by Weisberg, that might wake you up.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80299505

Wisberg is was a flawless authority. Sad that Posner tampered with his files.

Mr Bubble Guts
Offer Upgrade

User ID: 84362019
United States
12/06/2022 06:29 PM

Re: Is anybody still blind to tha fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

OP was a premise and a presumption.

Send Private Msg
Add to Buddy List
Add to Ignore List
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Say it straight up ...

Don't make me dig through shit just cause you said so.

Quoting: Mr Bubble Guts

History is neither a premise nor a presumption. It is pure, unadulterated fact.

Read Case Open by Weisberg, that might wake you up.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80299505

Another opinion in my opinion.

Anonymous Coward
 User ID: 84647302
 United States
 12/06/2022 06:35 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

not me. jack ruby opened my eyes.

Anonymous Coward (OP)
 User ID: 80299505
 Canada
 12/06/2022 06:44 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

not me. jack ruby opened my eyes.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 84647302

Indeed he did.

Anonymous Coward
 User ID: 76509910
 United States
 12/06/2022 06:45 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

Kennedy sent more troops over there than his predecessor dumbass. He managed to do that between popping his uppers and downers and between whores coming thru the back door of the Whitehouse. And between deals with his fathers mobster friends and then he attempted to take out his mobster friends enemies and paid the ultimate price, had nothing to do with the war, he had the CIA running drugs for his enjoyment and profits

Anonymous Coward (OP)
 User ID: 80299505
 Canada
 12/06/2022 06:48 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

Kennedy sent more troops over there than his predecessor dumbass. He managed to do that between popping his uppers and downers and between whores coming thru the back door of the Whitehouse. And between deals with his fathers mobster friends and then he attempted to take out his mobster friends enemies and paid the ultimate price, had nothing to do with the war, he had the CIA running drugs for his enjoyment and profits

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 76509910

The "textbook/cloned" historians that CNN routinely parades over the air, thrive on the statistical claim that Eisenhower kept involvement in Vietnam low whereas Kennedy escalated America's commitment to over 16,000. But a simple statistical analysis, of the sort that McNamara used to project optimism is absolutely meaningless. Colonel Fletcher Prouty, former liaison between the CIA and the Pentagon, explains the meaningless "numbers game" that superficial analysts use to distort history. According to Colonel Prouty: Don't get trapped into the numbers game. JFK had about 16,000 US military in Vietnam. He emphasized that they were not in combat slots, but this does not count all the guys with the CIA, etc... But this was true of the Eisenhower days. I and my whole squadron were in and out of Vietnam all the time in 1952, 1953 and 1954 and I am sure that the people who followed me in that job were there even more. My brother was with a group in Hanoi in 1954 and 1955. We had alot of guys helping at Dien

Bien Phu ...aerial work mostly. We had naval units and plenty of army people. On top of that, the CIA had large units from Korea, Taiwan and the Philippines in Vietnam and they had been there a long time. They began to go with Lansdale in '54. It is not the numbers that matter. It is what the President intended. JFK let things roll along...things that had been started by Eisenhower, and some of them grew. But he was going to get out of there by 1965 and wanted a record of bringing men home during 1963 and 1964. When I was working on NSAM 263 [Taylor/McNamara Report] I was very well briefed on this plan of Kennedy's. He was getting out and he wanted that on the record. That is why he was shot. There are no shortage of references citing Kennedy's commitment to pull out of Vietnam by 1965. As a matter of fact, Kennedy was so absolutely committed to withdrawal, he actually believed that anyone who suggested otherwise was a blundering idiot. In his own words, Kennedy defined the political and the moral challenges he faced over the war in Vietnam when he said:

If I tried to pull out completely now from Vietnam, we would have another Joe McCarthy red scare on our hands, but I can do it after I am reelected... In 1965, I'll become one of the most unpopular Presidents in history. I'll be damned everywhere, but I don't care.

To be sure, partisan and ideological bickering has obscured this simple, undeniable fact, and Canadians are probably in the best position to resolve the controversial quagmire of hostile disagreement. In particular, when Kennedy asked Canadian Prime Minister Pearson about what he would do in Vietnam, Pearson told him that he would pull out and Kennedy's reply did not leave any room to doubt his firm intentions. Indeed, when Prime Minister Pearson advised him to pullout, Kennedy said, "Any damn fool knows that. The question is, how?" And so, in the final analysis, if Kennedy was not assassinated, "any damn fool knows" that win, draw or lose, Kennedy would have ended America's involvement in the Vietnam war by 1965 as promised, and Lyndon Johnson would have been denied the opportunity to reverse his plans. And that is the ultimate tragedy of the Kennedy assassination. As President, we granted him the opportunity to save the world by averting nuclear war during the Cuban Missile Crisis, but we denied him the opportunity to spare us the grief over Vietnam. And that is what makes John F. Kennedy the greatest and the most underestimated President in world history. To be sure, common ignorance has made us retreat in the comfort of "we will never know what might have been", but we know the man, we understand his leadership qualities, we know what he had planned, and we know that it would have made all the difference in the world. It is no longer safe to hide behind ignorance.

John F. Kennedy was determined to save America from the pain of the Vietnam quagmire and he was willing to pay any price to do it. Does anybody miss the stark contrast between the myth that Johnson picked up where Kennedy left off and the reality that he was murdered to facilitate the ignorant crusade that claimed over 35,000 American lives?

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 73861582
 United States
12/06/2022 06:51 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

Kennedy sent more troops over there than his predecessor dumbass. He managed to do that between popping his uppers and downers and between whores coming thru the back door of the Whitehouse. And between deals with his fathers mobster friends and then he attempted to take out his mobster friends enemies and paid the ultimate price, had nothing to do with the war, he had the CIA running drugs for his enjoyment and profits

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 76509910

The "textbook/cloned" historians that CNN routinely parades over the air, thrive on the statistical claim that Eisenhower kept involvement in Vietnam low whereas Kennedy escalated America's commitment to over 16,000. But a simple statistical analysis, of the sort that McNamara used to project optimism is absolutely meaningless. Colonel Fletcher Prouty, former liaison between the CIA and the Pentagon, explains the meaningless "numbers game" that superficial analysts use to distort history. According to Colonel Prouty: Don't get trapped into the numbers game. JFK had about 16,000 US military in Vietnam. He emphasized that they were not in combat slots, but this does not count all the guys with the CIA, etc... But this was true of the Eisenhower days. I and my whole squadron were in and out of Vietnam all the time in 1952, 1953 and 1954 and I am sure that the people who followed me in that job were there even more. My brother was with a group in Hanoi in 1954 and 1955. We had a lot of guys helping at Dien Bien Phu ...aerial work mostly. We had naval units and plenty of army people. On top of that, the CIA had large units from Korea, Taiwan and the Philippines in Vietnam and they had been there a long time. They began to go with Lansdale in '54. It is not the numbers that matter. It is what the President intended. JFK let things roll along...things that had been started by Eisenhower, and some of them grew. But he was going to get out of there by 1965 and wanted a record of bringing men home during 1963 and 1964. When I was working on NSAM 263 [Taylor/McNamara Report] I was very well briefed on this plan of Kennedy's. He was getting out and he wanted that on the record. That is why he was shot. There are no shortage of references citing Kennedy's commitment to pull out of Vietnam by 1965. As a matter of fact, Kennedy was so absolutely committed to withdrawal, he actually believed that anyone who suggested otherwise was a blundering idiot. In his own words, Kennedy defined the political and the moral challenges he faced over the war in Vietnam when he said:

If I tried to pull out completely now from Vietnam, we would have another Joe McCarthy red scare on our hands, but I can do it after I am reelected... In 1965, I'll become one of the most unpopular Presidents in history. I'll be damned everywhere, but I don't care.

To be sure, partisan and ideological bickering has obscured this simple, undeniable fact, and Canadians are probably in the best position to resolve the controversial quagmire of hostile disagreement. In particular, when Kennedy asked Canadian Prime Minister Pearson about what he would do in Vietnam, Pearson told him that he would pull out and Kennedy's reply did not leave any room to doubt his firm intentions. Indeed, when Prime Minister Pearson advised him to pull out, Kennedy said, "Any damn fool knows that. The question is, how?" And so, in the final analysis, if Kennedy was not assassinated, "any damn fool knows" that win, draw or lose, Kennedy would have ended America's involvement in the Vietnam war by 1965 as promised, and Lyndon Johnson would have been denied the opportunity to reverse his plans.

And that is the ultimate tragedy of the Kennedy assassination. As President, we granted him the opportunity to save the world by averting nuclear war during the Cuban Missile Crisis, but we denied him the opportunity to spare us the grief over Vietnam. And that is what makes John F. Kennedy the greatest and the most underestimated President in world history. To be sure, common ignorance has made us retreat in the comfort of "we will never know what might have been", but we know the man, we understand his leadership qualities, we know what he had planned, and we know that it would have made all the difference in the world. It is no longer safe to hide behind ignorance.

John F. Kennedy was determined to save America from the pain of the Vietnam quagmire and he was willing to pay any price to do it. Does anybody miss the stark contrast between the myth that Johnson picked up where Kennedy left off and the reality that he was murdered to facilitate the ignorant crusade that claimed over 35,000 American lives?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80299505

Perfect analysis.

Anonymous Coward (OP)
User ID: 80299505
 Canada
12/06/2022 06:53 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

It's not exactly rocket science.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 69145249
 United States
12/06/2022 06:59 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

not me. jack ruby opened my eyes.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 84647302

Indeed he did.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80299505

Just look at Ruby's gravestone, reversed image. Left to right.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 83041820
 United States
12/06/2022 07:02 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

Bay of Pigs affair, not Kenendys escalation of the Vietnam 'war'

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 84887084
 United States
12/06/2022 07:05 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

All the above, but Kennedy wasn't murdered because he was going to end the Vietnam War, or reign in the deep state agencies & their bureaucracy.

He was murdered because he threatened to end the federal reserve banking system.

The same as Andrew Jackson & most recently Donald J. Trump.

For THIS is where the real power to rule & control lies.

Anonymous Coward (OP)
User ID: 80299505
 Canada
12/06/2022 07:05 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

Bay of Pigs affair, not Kenendys escalation of the Vietnam 'war'

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 83041820

That was a secondary factor that made zealots like George Bush and Nixon more anxious to knock Kennedy off.

Anonymous Coward (OP)
User ID: 80299505
 Canada
12/06/2022 07:09 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

The claim he was murdered because he threatened to end the federal reserve banking system is just a diversion.

Bankers are fucken idiots, they are not assassins.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 84316582
 United States
12/06/2022 07:10 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to the fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

not me. jack ruby opened my eyes.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 84647302

Indeed he did.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80299505

Just look at Ruby's gravestone, reversed image. Left to right.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 69145249

hmmm, not sure what type of language that is from on the bottom, but reversed, it sure does look like it says Nixon..

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 56025667
 United States
12/06/2022 07:14 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to tha fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

not me. jack ruby opened my eyes.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 84647302

Indeed he did.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80299505

Just look at Ruby's gravestone, reversed image. Left to right.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 69145249

hmmm, not sure what type of language that is from on the bottom, but reversed, it sure does look like it says Nixon..

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 84316582

Yep, what language goes backwards versus all the other languages, probably tied in.

---

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 84316582
 United States
12/06/2022 07:19 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to tha fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

...

Indeed he did.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80299505

Just look at Ruby's gravestone, reversed image. Left to right.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 69145249

hmmm, not sure what type of language that is from on the bottom, but reversed, it sure does look like it says Nixon..

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 84316582

Yep, what language goes backwards versus all the other languages, probably tied in.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 56025667

Ok, just did some research on that, consider my mind blown. Holy crap the rabbit hole runs deep. Thank you.

---

Anonymous Coward (OP)
User ID: 80299505
 Canada
12/06/2022 07:31 PM
Report Abusive Post
Report Copyright Violation

Re: Is anybody still blind to tha fact that Kennedy was murdered because he tried to end the Vietnam War?

not me. jack ruby opened my eyes.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 84647302

Indeed he did.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 80299505

Just look at Ruby's gravestone, reversed image. Left to right.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 69145249

hmmm, not sure what type of language that is from on the bottom, but reversed, it sure does look like it says Nixon..

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 84316582

Ruby worked for Nixon.

Back to Forum

Post New Thread

Reply

View Favorites

Related Threads

1	Howard Hughes was Mad Enough to order the hit on Kennedy.. he got business contracts in Vietnam because of it	12/11/22
2	How Kennedy Tried to Stop the Vietnam War	06/16/08
3	Vietnam: Declassified audio tapes reveal Kennedy considered supporting coup in South Vietnam, August 1963	12/14/09
4	From the Kennedy assassination to Watergate, Waco, the Vietnam war, Saddam Hussein and his trial, Majestic and the CIA, UFOs, the 'Extraterrestri	01/07/08
5	Howard hughes..stephen paddock...helos..vietnam...the vegas massacre...the kennedy assasination	10/24/17

Disclaimer / Copyright Info - Privacy Policy - Terms Of Use - Cancellation Policy / Billing Help

Mail Webmaster with questions or comments about this site.
Copyright © 1999 - 2022 Godlikeproductions.com
Page generated in 0.485s (16 queries)