Why don't you haul ass over to vampire Charles' house and ask him about Lori in Waikiki.

See what he has to say about someone in the UK touching The Princess from afar.

The anomaly....one of the most powerful concepts ever conceived. The son of man and God. The last chance.

Born of dreams and need.

See me in the news for warning Israel about a wanker UK vampire who grew up diddled by his uncle. Charles is so afraid of me that he pays my bills, pays for all my vehicles, has his knights send me topless pics of Charles in his younger years, has them drive me to places he has played polo, has me flown here there and everywhere. Has his knights take me to the Kahala where he stayed with Diana. Has me flown to San Fran. And on and on. So kiss my ass and feel free to walk off the edge of a 50 story building.

Like all of the best authors who ever lived throwing their heroes into the ring to be forged into one, but like all the best heroes he needs to overcome huge adversity to make him what he needs to be.

Dreams and need.

Emotion and Belief gets the job done.

Good. Imagine how annoying it must be for the real "anomaly",,, what a weird and insulting term. That is , if he were to read here, I can only imagine that he is not very impressed, imagine trying to hide,trying to have a semi normal life,before he has to deal with untold bullshit,and endless dumbfucks that want something for nothing, or think he owes them something, and everyday having to read the deluded opinions of bipedal maggots

That's why powerful people surround themselves with competent admin. You need to erect a wall, but also keep your ear to the public.

I can definitely see the wave of smooth-talking oily types slathering on the brylcream, practicing their dominant handshakes, and brushing up on their NLP techniques.

What is the core problem in this universe?

Wanker-queue-jumpers, maybe.

~O~

You can nip that crud in the bud by having a generic, "please fill out this form", linear process which will get you funded, or whatever, once you fill out some lightweight paperwork. And you employ some women to disburse it.

how do you live as a happy recluse, but affect the public on a large scale? Kubrick managed it, so did Castaneda.

You need to find a way to keep in close contact with the public, via (maybe) radio and web-forums (for example), without having to shake every shiny-eyed-demagogue's hand.

The Best-Friends-Forever-Kumbaya timeline has definitely sailed. But a transactional approach might still work.

Your post is very insightful.
