As well as other various names which are used. They are meant to distract...the egregore has gotten so powerful that something was needed. There are unfortunate end results however, because of the energy.

Re: There is a psyop called "the Dreamer" designed to neurophone drive people to insanity and schizo

That's been going on for years, with all sorts of names, usually summed up as He. It's not so much a psyop as it is a) people LARPing for the lolz, and b) people genuinely suffering from a psychological problem that require guidance or medical attention.

I play and utilize energy every day...It's what I do honey 🤔 And I know what you speak of. As much as it's a distraction it's also a way to protect. I have always said be careful when you touch that energy. It's like a drug...and when it's not for you, it comes with damaging mental consequences.

That is not true! Some noob trying to spout bullshit as truth 😏 I have never heard of that in my life...no matter though because energy goes naturally to where it's needed. No need to play...merely interact...but yeah you and those fake ass universal laws...lol
