None of you Actually CARE. You just pretend to care

So you feel better about yourself, but still you'd rather spend 40 minutes on videos you won't remember tomorrow than you would spending 40 minutes to make tomorrow a better and easier world.

From: you can make a loud sttment by remaining silent, thread

If putting together signs is too hard for you, what will it be like pillaging through trash to find food?

Ur all either too lazy, too stupid, or too influenced by bots to attempt ANYTHING.

Keep talking about what you don't like

Keep acting like you care

Keep avoiding simple actions

Just sit there and complain like a bitch. It's worth it right?

Not true. I spend a lot of time making my little piece of the world better. And day by day things get better.

Of course, I wouldn't presume to have a right to intrude upon someone else's little piece of the world and make any alterations. The prime directive, you know. I respect everyone else's right to live their lives as THEY please.

You respect nothing in the long term but every little thing in the short.

While you're at it, you should probably fill that two inch hole in the road so nobody has issues falling in the hole on the bridge.

They have problems too! lol

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 84670154

Yes, it's not easy for them. They are going through similar issues to us.

Big changes all across creation right now.

Regarding the alien empire, it's a little like the Vietnam War. The EArth takeover, at least the methodology, is very unpopular back home. A lot of the soldiers sympathize with the gooks, and are refuse orders, etc.

An open cooperation is possible, but we still have to be cautious, as lying is second nature to some of them.

We will get through this.

So it makes more sense to focus on helping yourself instead of the whole?

That selfish nonsense is exactly why everybody is okay with the world imploding.

Because two minutes of your future is more important than the world's future for the rest of our time, right?

Get over yourself

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 84802484

There is no "instead". We are healing a fractal. Healing yourself heals others.

- You fix your own damp and heating problems at home, and help someone else fix theirs, IF they ask.

- You get your own health and diet in order, then help someone else fix theirs, if they ask. I bought a junk-food-eating friend his first bunch of sweet potato leaves last week.

- You build a microfinance website and help three local friends raise cash, then help someone else set up a localized microfinance website, IF they ask.

The micro resonates outward and heals the macro.

With github and kickstarter, we could theoretically scale very rapidly.

~O~

The news has conditioned people to wait for TOP DOWN healing, which is inefficient and delusional. Americans especially, are conditioned to think that the right guy in the White House will either make it all better, or ruin everything.

Modern American political big mouths come off like spineless, political EUNUCHS.

No wonder your women are all running off to get railed by Tyrone.

Who the fk wants to listen to a beer bellied know-it-all ranting about how Bidet or Lump ruined everything?

~O~

Who got through COVID the best? The self-reliant red-necks and homesteaders.

I live in a small sea-side town, but I try and make my apartment a kind of homestead. At least that's where I'm headed.

If you can provide your own diesel, heat, water etc, and buy food locally, governments have less grasp over you.

~O~

Yes, I am an irritating dk, but I am also right, and I have a plan.

You are irritating dks with no plan.

That's why I beat you.

Your Friend from The Stars,

Gump
