Re: American Women are promiscuous and nihilistic, because American men don't build useful things any more...

Many honorable exceptions to this statement. The top ten to thirty percent of Americans, who kept the dream alive, are beyond awesome:

Bricklayers, coders, organic farmers, website designers, electricians, plumbers, designers, innovators... many many useful trades and arts.

But...

Many of the rest... too many PREDATORS, not enough CREATORS.

So, the system is imploding.

Men and women have fallen away from their natural, God-given roles due to constant attack from the enemy, which compels them, through peer and media influence, to believe and go along with lies.

Men have become less and less manly, and women have become more and more manly. Ahab men and Jezebel women abound everywhere you look.

Very true. I'm better than average looking but not a male model. I literally had my pick of beautiful 20 something women even though I was forty when I got married. I'm a CPA and know how to charm, listen to people, and talk about most anything. Women love smart guys, and yes money.

I did a presentation on investing recently at a college. Every woman in the audience was impressed and into me, you can see it on their faces. I liked it when single but now it's annoying honestly. People don't care that you're married and that's a disgrace.

Re: American Women are promiscuous and nihilistic, because American men don't build useful things any more...

Historically and evolutionarily, men provided material resources to women in exchange for sexual access, which lead to child rearing.

That balance has been upset by introducing women into the workforce... even without a job, the state will fill the resource gap through welfare entitlements.

Women no longer "need" men, so men at large have lost their largest motivating factor in life while self-reported happiness rates reach all-time lows and usage of antidepressants among women skyrocket.

Everyone loses.

the feminauts created them,

boys don't grow up to be men when mommy, the MSM, the "education" indoctrination system is hurling perpetual negativity and abuse at them for being male when they're told from day one and they learn from experience that mommy hates daddy because daddy wasn't what she expected and demanded him to be so that's why daddy isn't allowed to come home anymore

those boys don't grow up to be men and if they're a chad they grow up to be pervert womanizers and if they're not chad they get cast out of society as utter garbage

so why would they bother to contribute to building and bettering a society that hates them

Quoting: Naunet

Believe me, I've been through that apathy phase...

Why?

1) Because if you develop a (software / building / gardening / landscaping / sysadmin / pottery / bricklaying) skill set, you will be able to charge a higher rate. And then maybe move to happier lands. Worked out alright for The King of Random.

That's one pragmatic reason. Cash on The Barrelhead.

2) Useful projects get you socially noticed. IF you want that. More interesting friends, women, side-jobs, holiday invites, whatever...

Why?

More money and a better social life.

You don't think about "bettering society", you work on your own skill set, which (hopefully) unavoidably improves the world.

I'm not going to wheedle anyone to do anything. My responsibility ends when I show people a clear path out of the abyss. If they don't take it, don't blame me when the Grinder comes for you.

It's all on You.
