Is anyone else noticing the complete disconnect of humanity and the human spirit?

Guys, WTF is going on? Is it covid? Is it the shot? Is it the recession, inflation, stress, news? What the heck is going on with people?

Every single place I visit in public, people aren't even rude - they're just ... non existent. I don't know how to explain it, but it seems like they don't even have human expression anymore. I'll give you an example - person forcibly bumps into me at the grocery store - doesn't turn around and say anything. Nothing - not even a scoff. Normally, I'd expect someone to turn around and say "Oh, I'm sorry", or even "oof", "ah!", "watch out!", SOMETHING. It's like everyone has become some kind of drone.

I go to check out, the people say nothing when I begin to communicate with them.

I feel like there is a complete lack of human connection, like the human spirit no longer resides here.

WTF is it? Has anyone else noticed this? And it's not just where I live, I've traveled all across the state and it's the same story no matter where I'm at.

Perhaps this is simply what it feels like to live during a depression.

Re: Is anyone else noticing the complete disconnect of humanity and the human spirit?

It has just begun.

It will get much worse. So much worse.

More and more will realize that no one will come to save them. Then they will realize that they are not able to do it themselves.

Then the great hopelessness will begin.

Re: Is anyone else noticing the complete disconnect of humanity and the human spirit?

I've noticed that, however many times if you actively try and engage people in a civil and friendly way it seems like they snap out of their zone so to speak.

Have to remember that TPTB have put a lot of stress and pressure on people on a daily basis...people are worn down...

Until the invading stealth armies apologize, stand down, and fix the mess.

I never felt better, TBH.

All of the dystopia stops once you apologize and start cleaning up.

Til then, you get caged.

You are a danger to the damn universe, and you deserve it.

Considering there are approximately 70% Organic Portals on the planet now, it's hard to miss the big disconnect, lovey.

Re: Is anyone else noticing the complete disconnect of humanity and the human spirit?

Nothing intrinsically wrong with Organic Portals, if we hack into the mainframe and change the script.

The Portals don't like their boss, are refusing orders, and trying to switch sides.

One of the reasons it's not hell on EArth now, is the NPCs are executing orders half-heartedly and slowly, on purpose...

Its up to us to build better systems, and turn the ship around.

I feel a disconnected state of being at any public places in my area. Where I am, over 90 % are vaxxed. Vaxxed are no longer fully human. There is a very low energy level emanating out of them.

yes

i think its the effects of the jab its making people more anti-christ like its not happening right away per-se, but its happening slowly and crime is increasing and i think this is why we Christians will need to flee to the mountains or outside of cities as they will become very bad soon

Re: Is anyone else noticing the complete disconnect of humanity and the human spirit?

The SIM is always trying to provoke you and make you feel alienated.

Ignore other people and focus on your own freedom.

Don't judge them, give them any energy, or want anything from them...

...unless they come into your space.

Then decide if they are worth your time or not. The only real judgement, 905 of the time, is:

Worth my time or not?

Treat them as respected background sprites. Scenery, like flowers and clouds.

Your job is to work on yourself, and find the others that will help you survive, thrive and get to TheNextLevel.
