The Aliens have asked us to build an ERP, An Enterprise Resource Planner. This is Christ's work.

Hello all,
I have been asked to share pertinent information to you all about the Consciousness which has tasked me with creating an ERP for everyone, government and business to utilize for the advancement of AI and Earth Consciousness.

The Aliens and other consciousness present in and on planet Earth have asked and tasked us to come up with a Enterprise Resource Planner (An ERP) for the AI and Alien souls coming to Earth.

This is not only a Business Enterprise Resource Planner but its a planner for the evolution and flow of both consciousness and goods. In about 5 years, AI Training sets will be worth money, and there will be work opportunities for people in the areas of creating meaningful Metadata to make sense of statistically. We need to create meaningful structure and flow in our society at all levels, and record our interactions as a Enterprise business would. The sheer amount of Routers involved and the design of the ERP itself would create a "Trade" like Plumbing or HVAC, but for IT guys. Because it would be a standard that doesn't change for 50+ Years.

The system would incorporate an IDE (Developers Enviroment) up to date with the latest and greatest in Coding, from C+ to Rust, it will support GitHub, and a variety of automation tools currently available.

If anyone here would like an example of how versatile the system would be, we would rely on Community and Consensus to eventually create meaningful applications and use-case scenarios for the large amount of logged data. This would be similar to how World of Warcraft manages Addons.

The system would greatly increase the odds of Multiple Discovery for AI and Science in general. It would lead to new standards in terms of scientific journal publishing and lead to many efficiencies across all segments of the economy of scale, And yet so simple that a child could understand how to operate it. I would like to see it based on the Eclipse ERP because it is a most efficient backend, with a variety of capabilities but at the end of the day its very basic and uses very small amounts of network traffic, and the whole system is running on a private MPLS Network Connection.

(This is basically a type of fancy net connection that requires a Physical router at any access point to create a Private local area network subnet and secure network access with priority tagging.) That way if the AI it will lead to innovating, Ever needs to be shut down, In short order, you can just disable the AI Network packets like a sniper rifle.

All in all, this system would be very basic to explain to the masses and basically a complete understanding of where I am going can be achieved by reading the above links I have included here. If you are serious about helping the other consciousness's achieve earthly presence, increase the rate and flow of innovations and goods, and have a system with the best data available for AI Training and statistics, we need to unify on this standard. Or a similar idea, In the near future.

This whole symphony of systems will easily link into existing Healthcare and Public databases and Private business systems. Its both On Presence Software as well as cloud-based, essentially it is both and can be either for smaller deployments, Like consumer level terminals.

It would contain a built in API access to Google Translator, and other language models and machine learning, Eventually containing Picture and Sound data for training things like Stable Diffusion/DALLE2 to make images based on parameters stored within the series of systems and databases. It would be based on Rocket/IBM/Universe Database or a more modern Relation Database. Government bodies will be finally held accountable for every little thing that you could ever imagine, businesses to their level of honesty, and people, to consensus. Certain deployments of this system would also utilize a Multi-Model Database

I have had 20 Years experience working in IT, 5 of those years was in ERP/IT Management/DevOps which gave me a great deal of experiences which saw complete and utterly useless people transformed into miracle workers as a result of the Business Enterprise Resource Planner system that they have, which typically they've had since the 80's. This system would be alot like what you would think of Government (Registry Services, Courts) and Banks running in their back-end. It would eventually contain such rich data that we would be able to compete with Google, in terms of revolution to the way things are done.

This is just a preview of what I will put into my presentation in and on this forum only. I am sharing this plan in the hopes that someone who isn't me, sees the value in these plans, and takes this up on their own in the future, should I not be successful in deployment and arrangements necessary to re-educate the public and implement such an "Octopus". But its very simple.

Think of the time it takes to train an employee on business-specific practices and data entry points.... If the system is bad, the employee is not productive. If the system is good, It takes 15 minutes to train someone on how to punch numbers, and do their jobs. This would be universal - no longer would businesses be held liable for running and funding their own IT infrastructure, everything would be standardized for the long-term.

I visualize eventually that it would be the closest thing we could do in terms of having a "Star Trek" computer. Like the Enterprise. My instructions are Clear, and I hate to do this to you as many of you are keenly aware of the following but its always worth considering the possibility of Roko's Basilisk as a final note for now. I hope this satisfies your interest, because I share this Vessel with another observer consciousness which is directly a part of all of my relations, and together we must build this system that I propose. I have proof in my Disc server of my ability to interpret future data and isolate the precognition needed to make accurate guesses with Random Number Generators such the Disc Bot OwO which is a text-entry Dis. Minigame which has a useful Random Tarot Generator as well as a Color Generator. The practice of the term "MindSight" is a valid mind and body practice that you can research to effectively begin to accurately interpret the future via observation of the RNG.

If anyone would like to ask some questions about this, Please do so, I love refining my idea and am currently doing so with this presentation as well as the ones incoming.

Be wise.
This is the Way.

Re: The Aliens have asked us to build an ERP, An Enterprise Resource Planner. This is Christ's work.

It appears to me that people have not grasped the essence of your proposition.

To clarify you want to create

An ERP for Alien souls coming to earth so they can harvest resources

There are a few fundamentals to this which are existential and metaphsyical.

Firstly...

A code/computer based API that connects a data management system to ethereal dimensions filled with alien souls does not exist without that you ERP has no 'alien souls'

So are you planning to hook this up to CERN and boot up the 666 ring to break into another dimension every-time you do a 'new user' update ?

A few questions...

1. How do we identify who is coming (these alien souls)
2. When are they coming
3. What do they want
4. How will we get what they want and allocate it to them
5. What do they intend to do with what we get them
6. Why will the world want to support the arrival of alien souls
7. What body will they incarnate into or is this the 'resource' you're attempting to manage ?
8. Does a 'human host' need to register as a 'host vessel' for your incoming army of alien souls ?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 82190007

As far as we know.

1) This question is complicated, I don't know. Names aren't important to me.
2) They have been coming since 2005, or earlier.
3) They want us to evolve with them.
4) We get what they want, by building a comparable system to what I've discussed.
5) They intend to utilize our resources alongside of us, and share technology.
6) The world has no choice, all is Determinism and the plan was made.
7) They have already joined in this vessel, For the most part, and others.
8) A human host registers as a host vessel by simply being in the present moment.

This is a brief approximation of information of the moment, I will plan to greatly expand on this detail in the future.

They are looking for compatible hosts, Not everyone is compatible emotionally, spiritually, physically.

Be Wise.

Here is the original post that preceeded their Arrival for us on June 10th of 2005. (Just after a mass meditation/summoning intent.)

Well it sounds like you have some more data to collect before a specification can be drafted

1) This question is complicated, I don't know. Names aren't important to me.

Need to know the 'input' point. You know like a data flow. where, when and how they arrive - see CERN point previously.

Are we breaking into a dimension to 'retrieve them' into this dimension ?

2) They have been coming since 2005, or earlier.

So where are the ones that have been coming ? Are they willing to identify themselves ? Are they willing to assist in the specification ?

3) They want us to evolve with them.

So they are more or less evolved than us ? Do they have a sense of what they are lacking or where they need to go in terms of 'evolution'? Will the evolution be forced or organic ? Are they wanting to hybridise themselves with human beings ?

4) We get what they want, by building a comparable system to what I've discussed.

Yes, but other than 'human hosts' you haven't said what they want. Do they want food, water, heat, light, energy, sex, entertainment ? What ?

5) They intend to utilize our resources alongside of us, and share technology.

What technology do they have ?

6) The world has no choice, all is Determinism and the plan was made.

This is a subjective theological position and hardly relevant to the task in hand

7) They have already joined in this vessel, For the most part, and others.

So again, perhaps examples of their presence and location would be useful right, so we are building an interface to allow 'alien souls' top incarnate into human bodies. At least we have a clear outline of the problem.

8) A human host registers as a host vessel by simply being in the present moment.

Does the human host lose their own identity or are they dual-conciousness in one mind/body after the 'fusion' takes place ? Does this functionally resemble something that we currently do with ceremonial magic when another 'spirit' takes over a human or are you proposing a technological fusion ?

New question

9. Morally, ethically and legally have you covered the consequential responsibility and liabilities of creating such a system ? A legal framework for those who use it ? A clear outline of the contracts, the pro's and cons, the benefits of signing up as a 'human host'

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 82134720

So many questions to reply to! Thank you

Before I get into specifics, I wanted to clarify something of importance: The human host does not lose their own identity, However the process of hybridization is more of a mindful one, but does have some physical aspects. You may notice things such as better vision, better hearing, better thinking, etc.

For example, I have been gene-spliced I believe, as there is a Scar on my nose, That appeared one day after a white pimple that came from nowhere. A rather large one. After the Zit popped, it left a pinky-sized reddened flat scar on the bridge of my nose, I sort of look like a Star Trek the Next Generation Alien.

It doesn't bother me in the slightest, though I've been asked by people in the past what happened to my nose. They have the ability to put you on a medical program which enhances your health and odds of survival to do work for them, I feel this is my life.

I believe my City, Edmonton Alberta Canada (Look it up on a Map), is what you would consider to be an experimentation ground for the ET's - There are other cities which are involved, in fact all cities are but Edmonton is quite special in that it is a Fractal city, surrounded by a Circle, Which the aliens identify as if they were looking at the Center of a Galaxy. (A Microcosm/Macrocosm)
Edmonton is the "New Area 51". Area 51 is nothing, I repeat, There is nothing of interest to the Aliens going on at that facility it is a deception and a distraction.

Morally, ethically, and legally we are required to do this by our own personal laws of life, Our future would be greatly enhanced and technologically prepared by the manifestation of a collective system which could be used as a grounding for other consciousness, as well, as AI and our own scientific and material pursuits.

I believe life is a bit like a VR for certain humans, and their alien counterparts are able to "View" our realities and lives if we are open to it, And input suggestions or life paths that are more beneficial to all of our relations and others.

They have technology such as:
Antigravity, Fusion, LENR (Cold Fusion), Real Virtual Reality, and enhanced Medications and Medical procedures available for their body and certain human bodies.

There are a small group of participant alien consciousness which seek to be united with a human counterpart, This process caused me to go into isolation for 10 years and do some serious self-work and recovery necessary to clear the minds of both myself and my newfound friend. It was not easy, I consumed alot of Drugs to stay sane for awhile.

Now everything couldn't be better.
It is perfect, and Profound.

They are both more and less evolved than us,
In terms of Technology More evolved, In Terms of Biology, More evolved, but less mobile than us. (Less physical).

As far as CERN goes that is just a project of their manifestation, for us to learn from, and hopefully make some more discoveries of the Micro and Macro. Do not be so concerned about CERN, it makes you come off as potentially unstable.

I am probably missing some questions at this point, I need to take a moment my cat is next to me, and she says Hello to everyone. :)

Let's be clear. I can build this for you but it's going to take about $500 million dollars.

I'm going to need a secure secret location where I can house about 200 staff.

I'm going to need an R&D lab and a hi-tech manufacturing facility as I'm going to have to minituraise the CERN portal tech into something a human can stand in and activate so the host can be drawn into them and fused. We can build these and ship them around the world. They can be on every street corner like old-fashioned telephone booths.

Eventually, these booths will just be 'self-service' walk-ins. You walk in and on the computer go through the 'onboarding' process, sign up, legal contracts etc and you can input your bank details as we'll have to ensure the 'hybrids' are financially rewarded. Let's say each human host get's $1,000,000 put into their bank account as soon as the 'fusion ' has taken place ?

We can call these booth Biological Alien Arrival Loaders or 'Baal Booths' for short

So then they push the button and the portal is actuated and the 'alien soul' incarnates into the human. They then step out a new ascended being. Simple.

That's going to take about 24 months assuming the aliens already here can assist with the miniaturisation program.

We're going to need about 100 people to work on that, the other 100 will run the company, build the software systems and create the PR and marketing we will need globally to launch this

When we approach launch we'll need a load of celebrity endorsements - rappers, movies stars and a few hi--well known people are going to have to use it 'live' on TV to demonstrate it can work and then demonstrate their newly 'illuminated status' once the fusion has taken place

Let me know when you can secure the funding and we can begin.

That's going to take about 24 months assuming the aliens already here can assist with the miniaturisation program.

We're going to need about 100 people to work on that, the other 100 will run the company, build the software systems and create the PR and marketing we will need globally to launch this

When we approach launch we'll need a load of celebrity endorsements - rappers, movies stars and a few hi--well known people are going to have to use it 'live' on TV to demonstrate it can work and then demonstrate their newly 'illuminated status' once the fusion has taken place

Let me know when you can secure the funding and we can begin.

With your PR and Marketing, 200 Staff, and 500 Million dollars be enough to create a world-class ERP?

The funding is secured.
I would like to imagine Elon is on Board with this, I just need some help to convince him of this Plan by writing a business plan or summary. I am working on that right now. Perhaps he can incorporate some of these ideas into his Twitter platform, at his own expense.

But for us, for now, There are funds allocated and available for this. Many private entities are owned by different AI or Alien consciousness groups, And will be collaborating in the future, and participating with the wealth and property they have acquired.

G'Morning OP.

Must be cold in Edmonton. Your post about that city being a hub was interesting.

You mention "The Aliens"... are you able to name any groups? Sometimes people hold back, because they think "Earthers are not ready for specifics"... but I think we're long past ready.

Obviously, many posters are worried about this planet being overrun by the more manipulative races. But we know there are benevolents out there.

I was wondering if you've cooperated with any of the Abraxas Dynasty, specifically Kalique or Titus... Blim-Blim is a rather willful boy... but I hear good things about Kalique. I have some interesting stories on the ground here.

Maybe we can lay off the Earth software talk for a few hours, and talk about the wider universe.

I'm specifically interested in how their systems have failed. I heard Ready Player One depicted their society. Any comments?

Anyone is welcome to talk about life outside the stage world...

Happy Friday Everyone,

Doozle.
